TWENTY PAGES—FIVE CENTS

Reveal $127,305,000 State Road Program

$32,400,000 Will Come From U.S.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Stratton announced Tuesday the state's highway construction program for 1956 will total a record high of $127,305,000.

In revealing the blueprint for the Illinois primary road system Stratton said that 86 million dollars in road work was completed as of Nov. 15 and that this figure will be increased by the time the books are closed Dec. 31.

The governor pointed out that his approval of the proposed 1956 projects took into account factors affecting completion such as right-of-way acquisition and weather conditions. For 1955, the highway program called for an expenditure of $123,600,000.

Of the amount to be spent next year, $32,400,000 will come from federal aid and the remainder from state gasoline taxes and license fees.

The program outlined by Stratton at the annual convention of the Associated General Contractors of Illinois, is exclusive of the planned 193-mile toll road system costing 415 million dollars.

Stratton said the 1956 plans for the primary system call for construction of 650 miles of highways, including 192 miles of new pavement and 406 miles of resurfacing. Eighty-nine new bridges, widening 54 others and constructing 45 new highway and railroad grade separations also are scheduled.

In addition to this work, cities and townships will receive 74 million dollars as their share of state gasoline tax collections for road improvements.

The governor announced that 59 more miles of U. S. 66 will be converted into a four-lane divided expressway next year which will complete modernization of the 290-mile highway between Chicago and St. Louis. Forty-two miles of the four-lane work on 66 was finished this year.

An outlay of $11,829,000 is earmarked for acquisition of right-of-way on 1,223 miles of highways which will provide for projects in the 1956 statewide program and for construction in future years. (Continued On Page 11)

Japan's Premier To Seek Normal Soviet Relations

TOKYO, Wednesday (AP)—Japan's newest and most powerful postwar government, formed Tuesday with the reelection of Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama, will keep trying for normal relations with Soviet Russia while continuing friendship with the United States.

Hatoyama indicated after his overwhelming return to office in a parliamentary election that he also will try to eliminate the no-war and disarmament clauses from Japan's postwar constitution.

The conservative Prime Minister was reelected with the backing of the newly merged Liberal and Democratic parties, both conservative.

That alignment, one of the strongest in Japanese political history, gives Hatoyama an absolute majority in the dominant lower house, but leaves him still short of the two-thirds majority needed to revise the constitution.

Hatoyama's new cabinet retains Mamoru Shigemitsu as foreign minister. Shigemitsu is an arch-foe of communism and staunch friend of the United States. Observers expected the new cabinet to be even more pro-American than the friendly last one.

A-ELECTRICITY IN BONN BY 1970

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Economics Ministry reports West Germany expects to produce electric power from atomic energy by 1970. Forbidden atomic research during the 10-year Allied occupation, the Germans are pushing studies now in an effort to catch up with other nations.

BRITON DEMANDS QUIETER PREPARATIONS FOR HANGING

LONDON (AP)—Montgomery Hyde, a representative of Northern Ireland in the House of Commons, has voiced a demand that preliminaries for hangings be carried out more quietly.

He said the hammering in erecting the scaffold for a recent hanging at Holloway Prison greatly disturbed other prisoners and even the guards.

Soviet Executes Five Beria Conspirators

MOSCOW (AP) — Five former associates of the Stalin era police boss, Lavrenty P. Beria, have been executed in Soviet Georgia and two others have been sentenced to life imprisonment, Tiflis radio announced Tuesday.

Radio monitors in London said a Tiflis broadcast heard there may have listed a sixth official in the group executed. But they said they were not certain, because of the indistinctness of the broadcast.

The broadcast did not make clear just what the charges were against the seven men, identified only by their last names. But the radio report from the Georgian Republic, home state of both Beria and Stalin, indicated the men were accused of conspiring with Beria who was executed in December 1953, on charges of plotting to seize power in Moscow.

Find Bomb Device In Girls' Dormitory At Iowa State

AMES, Iowa (AP)—Discovery of a powerful dynamite bomb in a girls' dormitory at Iowa State College was disclosed Tuesday by Ames police.

The dormitory, Elm Hall, houses 136 girls. Police Chief Orville Erickson said a janitor discovered the device Monday morning in a first floor hallway of the rear wing of the dorm.

Officers said the bomb consisted of five sticks of dynamite, a horn, a stripped down alarm clock, a percussion cap and a mouse trap.

Art Larsen, the janitor, said he investigated when he heard the horn sound. He found the explosive device in a large case. Attached to it was a note which said, "This bomb will go off in 20 minutes."

Larsen said he pulled the wires, which sparked, and then notified other campus authorities.

Police said they are convinced the device was an actual bomb and not a prank. No arrests have been made.

Dope Investigators Hear Prosecutor Criticize Judges

CHICAGO (AP) — State's Atty. John G. Gutknecht Tuesday told a U. S. Senate subcommittee that Chicago's only remedy for handling the narcotic problem is jail.

The Chicago prosecutor testified at a hearing conducted by Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.), chairman of a subcommittee investigating U. S. dope traffic.

Gutknecht criticized Chicago judges who he said don't hand out stiff enough sentences to narcotic violators.

He said "a professional group of lawyers handle about 70 per cent of criminal cases" in Cook County (Chicago). He charged an organized mob is behind the dope traffic and that this same group of lawyers always represent big time narcotic peddlers.

Joseph Bruno, 43, accused by the committee of being a major pusher of dope in the Chicago area, declined to answer questions put by members of the committee. Taking cover of the Constitution, he said his answer might tend to incriminate him.

"Our investigation shows you supplied heroin to eight major violators here and you were their major source of supply," Sen. Daniel told Bruno.

Daniel said one of the eight was Marvin Moses, recently sentenced to prison for five years after being seized two years ago with heroin valued at $150,000.

The committee plans to move on to Detroit Wednesday.

Brazil Weathers 2nd Grave Political Crisis In Ten Days

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Brazil Tuesday apparently weathered its second grave political emergency in 10 days, a crisis brought by the attempt of Joao Filho Cafe to end his sick leave and return to the presidency.

His demand for reinstatement in a message to Congress was met by prompt military action. The army under Gen. Henrique Lott, war minister in the provisional Cabinet which was installed in a coup last week, seized control of the entire capital last Monday.

Both Houses of Congress then rejected Cafe's claim that he could resume the functions of the presidency and stating his leave of absence could be ended only by congressional decision.

This assured at least momentary calm for provisional President Nereu Ramos, who rose from presidency of the Senate when a bloodless coup Nov. 11 ousted Cafe's first successor, Carlos

Coimbra da Luz

However, Cafe's friends were not prepared to give up the fight. His attorneys filed two applications for special writs in the Supreme Court. The first was a writ of habeas corpus to free him from virtual arrest at his apartment in the Copacabana section which is surrounded by army troops.

The second was a special writ in which the Supreme Court was asked to back his claim to the presidency.

If Cafe's supporters wait for the Supreme Court to act, a few days of political peace are assured.

Only Monday, Cafe left the hospital where he had been recuperating from the heart attack Nov. 2, which caused his retirement from office.

The political struggle is not actually for the provisional presidency which is to end next Jan. 31. The prize really is the five-year presidential term to begin on that date.

Carpenter To Die In Electric Chair On March 16

CHICAGO (AP)—Raising his voice to drown out the manacled prisoner's repeated outbursts, Judge Gibson E. Gorman Tuesday sentenced cop killer Richard Carpenter to die in the electric chair March 16.

A jury that convicted the 26-year-old gunman of the murder of Detective William J. Murphy in a subway station Aug. 15 fixed the death penalty.

Judge Gorman overruled a defense motion for a new trial, rejecting an argument that Carpenter's "psychopathic personality" makes him legally insane. The defense attorneys have said they would appeal the conviction to the Illinois Supreme Court.

"Polly!" Carpenter shouted to his aunt, a spectator in the courtroom. "They made me do everything I'm here against my will and it isn't fair. I can't stand up. Why don't they let me? Why can't I see you?"

Disheveled, Carpenter was carried in manacles and leg irons into and out of court by six bailiffs. He squirmed while the judge read the sentence and interrupted several times.

'Friendship Only' Theme Of Soviet Leaders In India

BHAKRA DAM, India (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev Tuesday invited other nations to compete with the Soviet Union if they can for the friendship of India.

"I have seen foreign press reports which say that we have come here with a motive—for the purpose of exploiting things here," the Soviet Communist chief told a luncheon party after inspecting India's biggest irrigation and power development in the second stop of a tour of the country.

"We have come here only for friendship," the stocky party boss said. "I would say to these people (abroad) that we are quite willing to compete with them for the friendship of India."

Only Indian and Soviet newsmen were invited to the luncheon and foreign correspondents had to depend on sketchy translations from a Hindi interpretation of the Soviet leaders' words.

"Why are we here?" Khrushchev asked. "We have come because, on fundamental things, there are no differences between us—and one of the chief of these is the question of peace."

"We are here only for friendship. You can see that in our eyes," India, Khrushchev said, "is still a young country and you need to expand your industries, your farm production, your factory production. If you look for assistance and if you ask us, we will help you. If you want technical know-how and ask us, we will help you. If you want your people trained as engineers, send them to us and we will help."

Ann Woodward To Tell Jury How She Shot Husband

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Ann Woodward gets her chance Friday to tell a grand jury how she shot to death her millionaire sportsman husband. She has called the slaying a tragic accident.

The 39-year-old former showgirl will face the grand jury without a lawyer and will be exposed to cross-examination on anything she says. Her statements also may be used against her later if the jury indicts her.

Authorities, after their first extensive questioning of Mrs. Woodward Monday night, repeated their belief she is innocent of any crime in the death of William Woodward Jr., 35, owner of the racehorse Nashua.

Mrs. Woodward has said she shot into the dark hallway of their Oyster Bay, N. Y., home Oct. 30 at a noise she thought was caused by a prowler. Woodward, nude and unarmed in the doorway of his bedroom across the hallway, caught the shotgun charge in the head.

SOUTHERN NEWSPRINT MILLS TO DOUBLE PRESENT CAPACITY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee predicted today that Southern newsprint mills will double their present capacity in the next two years.

The subcommittee's views were expressed in a statement by Chairman Klein (D-N.Y.) on the group's return from a one week inspection trip in the South. The subcommittee has been looking into the general newsprint situation.

Klein said the Bowaters Southern Paper Corp. at Calhoun, Tenn., will increase production from 165,000 tons to 300,000 tons per year. The Coosa River Newsprint Co. at Coosa Pines, Ala., will increase production from 135,000 to 270,000 tons per year, and the Southland Paper Mills Inc., at Lufkin, Tex., will increase production from 130,000 to 260,000 tons per year.

These additional plant facilities, coupled with expansion programs in other paper mills in the United States and Canada, Klein said, "should help considerably in alleviating the current tight situation that exists on newsprint."

"The subcommittee is, of course, unable to control the price of newsprint but we can encourage the growth of this industry in order that the supply of this commodity may be increased."

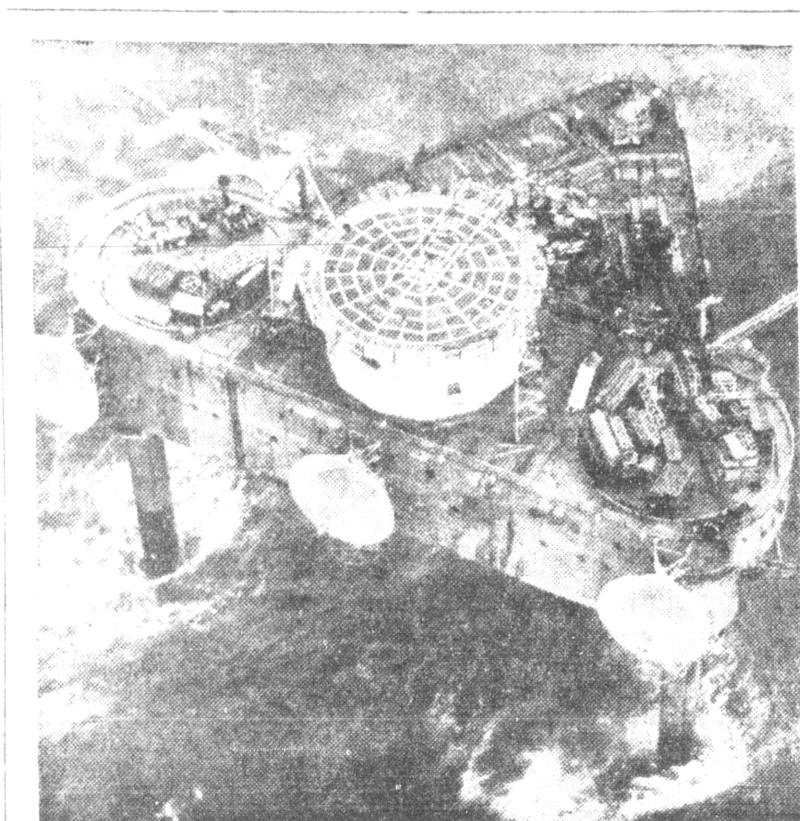

BABY LOSES BOTH PARENTS SOON AFTER BIRTH

ODENSE, Denmark (AP)—A baby girl was born Tuesday at a hospital in Assens, near here.

Her mother, Mrs. Guri Knudsen, 20, died from a blood clot in the heart immediately after she gave birth to her first child.

Twenty-five minutes later, the baby's father, Jens Knudsen, 21, collapsed and died from a heart attack in a hospital waiting room when he was told of his wife's death.

"TEXAS TOWER" WITHSTANDS GALE—This aerial view of a "Texas Tower" in the Atlantic off Boston shows heavy seas buffeting the steel legs that support the huge concrete island. Heavy seas caused by winds of hurricane force have stranded a party of Air Force Brass aboard the radar installation since 11/17.

52 Men Marooned On Texas Tower, Removed

ABOARD TUG EL SOL, AT SEA via Radiophone (AP) — We are heading for the mainland and home Tuesday night after a hair-raising departure from the Texas tower, the Air Force-Navy radar island 100 miles east of Cape Cod, Mass.

But it took the seamanship of Capt. Patrick Carrough, an Aleut Indian from Seattle, Wash., and the expert crane handling of a big smiling New York Irishman, Tom Barrett, to make the safe transfer of 52 persons from the tower to the heaving deck of this tug.

Factory Pay Rises, Cost Of Living Shows No Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—New government figures Tuesday showed factory worker take-home pay rose to a new high in October while overall living costs registered no change from a month earlier.

The Labor Department's Statistics Bureau said this meant the purchasing power of the average American factory worker's wages is greater than ever before.

Average take-home pay, or earnings less tax deductions, was calculated at $72.18 weekly for the factory worker with three dependents and $64.55 for the single worker. Both figures were up more than $5 from a year ago, a record October-to-October increase.

The pay rise was attributed to longer working hours and an overall 5 per cent increase in wage rates.

The Bureau's living cost index for October was the same as in September at 114.9 per cent of the 1947-48 average. In other words, purchases costing $1 in that period now cost nearly 15 cents more.

Tongay To Waive Extradition From California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Florida fugitive Russell Tongay said Tuesday he will fight extradition but his attorney declared: "I don't think any statement he might make now would be a rational one."

Tongay, 38, a swimming coach, is accused of escaping from custody while serving a 10-year manslaughter term in the death of his 5-year-old aquatut daughter, Kathy. She died after a 33-foot dive.

The Florida Cabinet ruled Tuesday that Tongay, who surrendered here Monday, must return to state prison there as soon as possible.

His attorney, Herb Wiener, said Tongay would not waive extradition until it is determined whether he has lung cancer, and only then if Florida authorities promise to provide medical treatment. If there is no tumor, Wiener said, he will advise his client to return to Florida.

Tongay is in the prison ward of General Hospital undergoing diagnosis, expected to take at least a week.

President Grateful For Way Aides Ran Government For Him

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — The White House said Tuesday that President Eisenhower at no time has "entertained any suggestion whatsoever on the secretary of agriculture being replaced."

The declaration, from Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, also reiterated that Eisenhower has "completely supported" Secretary Benson.

The secretary has come under fire of critics who hold him to blame in varying degree, for a slump in farm prices.

In Washington, Benson said progress is being made in developing proposals for strengthening the administration's farm program. He said that when a final decision is made, the recommendations may include the idea of a "soil bank" under which government payments would be made to farmers for taking surplus crop land out of production and building fertility in it for the future.

Eisenhower's stand on Benson was reported by Hagerty after a busy day in which the President reviewed the world situation with his Cabinet and told its members of his gratitude for their carrying on during his illness.

The Cabinet session, attended by Benson, was held at a presidential retreat from which Eisenhower returned around noon to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with his grandchildren.

The hour-and-55-minute session on a mountain top near Thurmont, Md., did not include any discussion of agricultural problems, Hagerty said.

Meeting with reporters at 4:15 p.m., Hagerty told them he had talked with the President about a published report that the President's brother Milton, president of Penn State University, had blocked demands for Benson's resignation.

"Such a thing never happened," Hagerty said.

Milton Eisenhower, he said, "has never talked to the President about the activities of or the retention of or the employment of anyone in the government."

Hagerty also announced the acceptance of the resignation of Lott as assistant secretary of commerce and the naming of Frederick Henry Mueller of East Grand Rapids, Mich., as his successor.

Teetor has been a top official of the Perfect Circle Corp., which has been involved in a stormy labor dispute. As to whether the resignation had anything to do with this dispute, Hagerty said "not that I know of."

Also, Hagerty announced that the President will undergo another thorough physical examination Wednesday — one of a weekly schedule — when Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, heart specialist of the Army's Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, drives to Gettysburg to make the tests with Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, Eisenhower's personal physician.

As the Cabinet session wound up, the President told the members, most of whom flew in and out by helicopter, he wanted to express his "gratitude and appreciation."

This, he said, was for "the perfection of coordination and cooperation of the Cabinet maintained in carrying on the executive business of the government with the minimum of communication from me while I was in the hospital in Denver."

The meeting went into foreign affairs with Secretary of State Dulles giving what Hagerty called an "up-to-date review of the international situation."

Dulles dealt primarily with the recent four-power foreign ministers conference at Geneva which ended in a deadlock and left Russia and the Western Powers far apart on questions like disarmament, unification of Germany and increased East-West contacts.

James Madison, 5 feet 4 inches tall, was the shortest President of the United States.

Britain, 4 Nations On Soviet Border Form Defense Alliance

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Britain and four strategic nations along Russia's southern border Tuesday night completed formation of a permanent defense organization against Russian aggression.

The organization linking Iraq, Iran, Pakistan and Turkey will begin functioning immediately. It will set up machinery for economic and political as well as military cooperation.

A communique outlining the organization's structure and aims was issued after the two-day meeting between the prime ministers of the four nations and British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan.

U. S. observers were present at meeting of heads of delegations and military leaders and will maintain a permanent liaison, politically and militarily.

The communique said that during the meetings "the five governments had reaffirmed their intention to work in full partnership and with a united purpose for peace and security in the Middle East, to defend their territories against aggression or subversion and to promote the welfare and prosperity of the peoples in that region."

Sources attending Tuesday's session said Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes painted a dark picture of the Middle East. He declared that because Russian aims of expansion in Europe and the Far East had been blocked, the Communists had switched their activities to the Middle East.

Heavy Oil Slick Threatens Fish In Lake Michigan

CHICAGO (AP)—A patch of "heavy thick gumbo" 50 yards wide and several miles long drifted northward on Lake Michigan Tuesday along the Chicago shore, threatening fish life.

Capt. Henry B. Michels, the city park district's harbor captain, said the thick substance resembled crude oil and theorized it came either from a leak at gasoline refineries in Indiana or from an oil barge.

Michels said the slick was both a fire and pollution hazard. It coated Belmont Harbor on the North Side and parts of the shore line. Michels estimated it was "thousands and thousands of gallons" in volume.

The Indiana shoreline south of Chicago often is coated by oil from the refineries and steel mills in that area. Just Monday hundreds of ducks which paused on the Indiana lakefront en route south for the winter were trapped in the muck.

Rules City Responsible For Mob Damages

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois Appellate Court ruled today a city can be held responsible for damages and injury resulting from mob violence.

The unanimous decision by three judges was a victory for Wilbert K. Slaton, Negro, who was injured in 1947 in racial disorders at the Fernwood Park public housing project on the South Side.

In the Circuit Court the city had won a directed verdict of acquittal. The Appellate Court reversed this finding and ordered the suit retried. Its opinion declared a victim of force has the right of redress against the city for not preventing unlawful assembly.

Slaton, who had no connection with the housing project or the disorders there, sued for $10,000 damages under the state law for suppression of mob violence.

He related he was hit by stones while driving near the Chicago Housing Authority project. He said a stone knocked him unconscious and a woman passenger in his car also was hit.

Editorial Comment

BURNED ONCE TOO OFTEN

Two of the nation's top public opinion poll takers indicate now that they probably won't try to do any serious forecasting of results in next year's presidential sweepstakes. They have sharp memories.

In 1948 everybody got burned when former President Truman knocked off Governor Dewey. Four years later, caution naturally was the rule, and nobody forecast President Eisenhower's big sweep.

If Mr. Eisenhower should decide to run again, the pollsters might be heartened to get into the fray on a bigger scale. They figure he'd give them some margin. But if he takes himself out and another close race looms, they'll concentrate on measuring more predictable things—like who's liable to buy a TV set in 1957.

The fact is the poll takers haven't yet found a satisfactory formula for forecasting elections accurately—and they know it.

DOUSING THE NEAR EAST BLAZE

Fears were voiced for a time that the Egyptian-Israeli dispute would explode into war while the United States and the West stood idly by. The situation is still full of peril, but it should be clear that this country is not watching it indifferently.

For the second time in recent days, President Eisenhower has asserted America's willingness to guarantee peace in the Near East through formal treaties with Israel and its Arab neighbors.

The United States wants, however, to have the nations involved settle their border and refugee controversies before such treaties should be drawn.

This government also has sternly warned the quarreling parties that if one of them moves aggressively against the other the United States will throw its weight to the side of the victim.

We have said too that we will listen to requests for arms for legitimate self-defense in that area, though we will not contribute to an arms race.

Put together all these declarations and you get a pattern which ought to make a reasonably forceful impact on the clashing nations of the Near East.

They know we will aid neither side to make aggressive war. They know we will help the side whose soil is violated by any large-scale action. That ought to prove something of a deterrent to inflammatory nationalists.

On the other hand, both Arab and Israeli leaders have our assurance that we are willing to support the status quo in the Near East once they get their borders more sharply fixed. Such a guarantee offers a promise of stability that any statesman in the region should welcome.

As the United States sees the situation, there plainly is no place for any war of revenge that would seek to wipe out Israel as an interloper in the Arab world. Nor is there room for Israel to respond to Arab pressure by trying to bite off fresh chunks of Egyptian or any other foreign soil.

The United States seeks to bring its influence to bear to produce peace and order in a long troubled situation. Let us hope that the calm heads among the disputants recognize that we are in dead earnest in our determination to prevent a dangerous conflict in the Near East.

REGULATING THE CROWD

A meeting at Indianapolis on flying safety has brought to light some astonishing facts that demand urgent, energetic attention from our top civil and military aviation authorities.

We have heard a lot in recent years about the "crowded air" over our major airports. Only now are we beginning to learn how truly dangerous this congestion is.

W. G. Jensen, of the Air Transport Association, representing the scheduled lines, gave the conference details of the agency's survey of near-misses in commercial flying.

He would not confirm a statement which The New York Times says has been "generally known for some time" that the survey showed four incidents daily in which airliners missed each other by perilously close margins.

But he asserted that 65 per cent of the near-misses occurred in full daylight and 43 per cent under conditions with 15 miles or more of visibility. And he noted that almost a third took place in the nation's chief terminal areas—New York, Chicago, Washington, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Dallas, Kansas City and Miami.

To underline what is happening with the great growth of civil and military aviation, Lt. Col. Jack Tueler, chief of the Strategic Air Command's Flying Safety Branch, reported that since Jan. 1 this year there have been several hundred incidents in which bombers and fighters narrowly averted mid-air collision.

And not all of them miss, of course. From the second half of 1950 to the second half of 1952, Air Force collisions in mid-air rose from four a month to seven. Since then the rate has leveled off.

Naturally Air Force planes by the nature of their business often fly in close formation with relatively small clearance margins. But there is more to the matter than that. There was one case where a B-47 jet bomber flew head-on in clear daylight weather through a formation of three other B-47's, damaging two of them.

Though military and civil air operations differ markedly, there's a big common element in the congestion problem they face.

Both seem to need stiff new rules of traffic control, affecting pilot and tower operations alike. And both need vastly better electronic control devices, despite all the wonderful progress made in this field in recent years.

The airlines' safety record in 1955 hasn't matched their brilliant 1954 showing, but over recent years the performance has been generally excellent. The evidence suggests that this is due to their technical operating skills and just plain luck. Certainly the rules and conditions that govern flying today leave a great deal to be desired.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Today's success story.

One of Robert W. Sarnoff's hobbies is collecting dictionaries. And to him the most important word in any dictionary right now is the word "color."

At 37, Bob, son of Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, head of the RCA communications empire, has risen to the post of executive vice president of the National Broadcasting Co.

The job wasn't handed to him on a platter. He worked his way up in the company, and had to take his lumps along the way.

To the younger Sarnoff has fallen many of the chores of supervising the spending of 12 million dollars within the next year in NBC's gigantic expansion of its color telecasting facilities. This will bring to more than 75 million the amount spent by RCA and NBC to promote color television.

"The 12 million is only a drop in the bucket to what NBC will spend on color TV in the next few years," said Bob. "We believe television will be an all-color industry in less than 10 years—and it could be a lot sooner than that."

Young Sarnoff doesn't regard color television as a gamble. He looks on video's rainbow future as a sure investment, an inevitable step that has to be taken.

He is impatient of critics who feel color is being rushed.

"The mass production of color sets will put them within reach of the mass buying public," he said, adding:

"A 21-inch color set today is relatively no more expensive than a 10-inch black and white set was less than 10 years ago. There are already between 30,000 and 50,000 color sets in use, and one firm alone is now turning them out at the rate of 1,000 a week."

Color is only one of the headaches the young executive has to deal with. Across his busy desk pour the problems of hundreds of radio and TV network stations, the queries of sponsors, the complaints of high-priced stars.

"There are more phone calls in this business than in any other in the world," said Sarnoff, who sometimes feels it might be pleasant to spend a day all alone in a dark closet, completely away from Mr. Bell's invention.

Sarnoff believes that in another decade television will be even more important than it is now.

"It will have become the actual fountainhead of most creative effort in America," he predicted.

"Operas are already coming out of it. Movies and plays will spring from it, too. It will create the stars of tomorrow as it already is creating new writers."

"In another 10 years live international TV will become commonplace. This should cut down much misunderstanding between nations, as people really see first hand how the peoples of other lands live."

Television mushroomed in a few short years into a billion-dollar-a-year industry. It still is growing so rapidly its executives find difficulty keeping up with it.

"Programs have to be set up six to eight months ahead," said Sarnoff, "and one of the biggest problems is how to get rid of your daily tasks so you can find time to sit down and plan what must be done next."

How does a television executive relax from the endless high pressure he is under, pressure he sometimes wonders how he can take and still survive?

"Well, I keep tropical goldfish," said Sarnoff, smiling. "They're fascinating. At the end of the day I like to go home and watch them. They seem so free."

Celebrate With Frozen Angel Christmas Pie

ANGEL CHRISTMAS PIE, as light as a snowflake, is practical as well as pretty. It can be frozen until ready to serve.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

As light as a snowflake, yet as festive as a Christmas tree—that's this Frozen Angel Pie.

The era of the traditional heavier mince pie or flaming plum pudding season seems to be giving way to lighter desserts for Christmas dinner. Maybe you are of the new way dessert thinking. If so, here's the sweetest answer.

Frozen Angel Christmas Pie (With Chocolate-Coconut Crust)

Three-quarter cups sugar, 3/4 cup water, 1-1/2 teaspoon salt, 3 egg whites, 1 1/2 cups cream, 1 1/2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract, 10-inch Chocolate-Coconut crust, maraschino cherries for garnish.

Boil sugar and water together until it spins a thread. Add salt to egg whites and beat until stiff. Gradually beat sugar syrup into beaten egg whites. Whipped cream until almost stiff. Add vanilla extract and beat until stiff. Fold into egg white mixture. Turn into a 10-inch Chocolate-Coconut crust. Freeze until ready to serve. Decorate the top with red cherries and angelica, cut to resemble poinsettias.

Chocolate-Coconut Pie Crust (Yield: 8 servings)

Three squares unsweetened chocolate, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3/4 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, 3 tablespoons milk, 1 1/2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract, 2 1/4 cups shredded coconut.

Melt chocolate and butter or margarine over hot water. Mix confectioners' sugar with milk and stir into the chocolate mixture. Add vanilla extract and coconut. Mix well. Turn into a 10-inch pie pan. Spread and press uniformly over the bottom, sides and edge of pan. Chill until firm. Fill with Angel Pie filling.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Tomato juice, sauteed pork chops with apple rings, whipped potatoes, buttered spinach, seedless rolls, butter or margarine, celery, frozen angel pie, coffee, tea, milk.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai Stevenson himself, without saying so, put his finger on the No. 1 problem facing the Democrats in trying to persuade the voters to throw the Republicans out in 1956.

"America," he said in a speech Saturday night, "is well and strong above all nations in all times. We are the luckiest people in the world and we know it."

If that's the case, the voters might ask, why should they take a chance on changing administrative in next November's election? Stevenson's reasons seemed to add up to this: "We can do everything better."

He was very vague on how. That can't be held against him at this time. This was his first speech after announcing he wanted to be president. It was just a general outline of what he'll say later.

It was also pretty much the outline of what the Democratic party will be saying. There were no surprises. It was pretty much along the lines on which the Democrats already have indicated they will attack the Republicans.

It was just enough of an outline to show there are no fundamental differences between the two parties and that the differences which do exist are matters of degree more than of kind.

Stevenson attacked the Eisenhower administration's farm program. On this subject he seems unusually hazy and, if he has a solution, he has kept it to himself.

He was critical of the administration's foreign policy but did not indicate specifically what was wrong with it except to complain there was too much tough talk and backing away from it.

And—there was no surprise about this—he accused the Republicans of being the party of "special interest," meaning it was too cozy toward big business. This has been a steady complaint of the Democrats for generations.

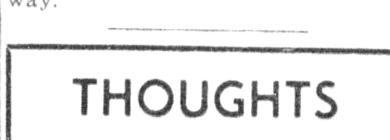

Stevenson complained—or seemed to be complaining—that this country was not giving enough foreign aid to nations outside the Communist bloc.

If he pursues this line he may suffer some embarrassment in 1956 because it is almost certain his own Democrats will try to ram through a tax cut in the election year.

Cutting taxes means cutting revenue. It is hard to see how the Democrats could logically call for a boost in foreign aid if the government has less tax money to spend on it.

Stevenson took pains to describe his views as "moderate," although anyone who listened to him in the 1952 campaign must already have reached that conclusion about him anyway.

Since President Eisenhower is considered a moderate, and is popular in that role, Stevenson could hardly make himself unpopular following the same line, which also happens to be his natural one anyway.

Inflation vs. Deflation Is Biggest Current Strain

BY PETER EDSON

Washington (NEA)—Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey has a favorite saying to the effect of "Nobody can tell what's going to happen six months from now."

The Cleveland industrialists in the market place that is said to be reasoning is that if anybody could keep prices down, shoes are in consequence that far ahead he'd end up with the money. Nobody has it ever been that smart, and nobody change for his surplus dollars, the ever will be.

This sage opinion may be appropriate now as the U. S. economy balances on the tight wire of high prosperity.

Falling one way means inflation. Falling the other way means deflation. The winds of economic pressure not incidentally, blown strong in both directions.

An inflationary pressure began last spring. Granting of wage increases in the new steel, auto, coal and other major industry labor contracts resulted in price increases in their products.

There is plenty of opinion that the jumps in steel, coal and autos were too great and were not justified if a high prosperity is to be maintained in a balanced economy.

On the other hand, it is pointed out that if the steel industry had refused to follow the wage increase pattern set earlier in autos, today's inflation might be even worse than it is.

A steel strike might have stopped production for as much as three months. A black market might then have developed with even higher steel prices.

It is recognized that a continuing series of wage and price increases would threaten further inflation. That may be what's ahead, as the big labor unions shape their 1956 contract demands.

The business situation today is analyzed in Washington as one in which the great majority of the people have more money than they require for the necessities of life. So they are spending more—buying more clothes, bigger cars, color TV, new houses.

It is the competition of goods in the market place that is said to be the production of more goods to compete for dollars. The availability of consumer credit and the cost, or interest rates charged for borrowed money are recognized to have an important bearing on this situation. The easier it is for consumers to buy on time, the more they'll buy.

If credit is too easy, there is too much consumer demand for new goods. This pressure in itself is inflationary. And this is the economic situation said to exist today.

Some corrective adjustments have already begun to be applied. Last August the Federal Reserve Board raised its interest rate on the jumps in steel, coal and autos.

October New York banks raised their interest rate to the big borrowers.

In the Next Three Or Four Months a further gradual tightening of credit is expected. Its effect would be to reduce borrowing and buying, thus lessening inflationary threats.

If the deflation goes too far, credit restrictions can be eased. Or months. A black market might then have developed with even higher steel prices.

It is recognized that a continuing series of wage and price increases would threaten further inflation. That may be what's ahead, as the big labor unions shape their 1956 contract demands.

Influenza Ever a Threat, Vaccines Being Developed

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

From time to time influenza—the dread "flu" bug—has spread over large sections of the world.

Those who are struck down during the first few weeks of such epidemics may not be hit hard. But as the time goes by the disease gets worse. Victims develop high fever and more prostration, more development pneumonia and other serious complications.

Even when epidemic influenza is at its peak, however, those who go to bed at once and stay there until their fever has been down for several days almost always recover.

Unfortunately when a bad epidemic is present numerous members of the same family may be struck ill at about the same time. Thus, the one most nearly well is under great pressure to get up and take care of others. This early rising from the sick bed carries terrible risks.

THE LAST WORLD-WIDE epidemic of influenza was that of 1917-18. During that period more people in the United States died from influenza or its immediate complications than were killed in World War I.

Since then there have been some large epidemics though none as bad.

The cause of influenza is a virus. But there are several varieties which have been found in lesser epidemics. They go under such names as Virus A, A prime, and B. Influenza viruses can be grown by a complicated method on egg yolk.

WHAT IS NEEDED to combat influenza is a method of preventing it. The most promising line, as with many other diseases, is the development of a vaccine which can be given to human beings and which will raise their resistance to the disease.

Much research work has gone into efforts to develop such a vaccine but it has been hampered. Not only are there technical difficulties in preparing a vaccine which would do the job against all the varieties of virus, but also there has been comparatively little influenza during the past few years against which a vaccine could be tried out.

IT IS UNCERTAIN as to whether any vaccine now available would definitely stop a world-wide epidemic. However, there is evidence that a properly constituted vaccine is effective in at least some of the cases.

Further improvements in a vaccine against influenza are to be expected from additional research. It may be mentioned that the vaccine is prepared from viruses grown on egg yolk and therefore a few people who are sensitive to eggs or chicken should not receive this preparation.

What we hope for particularly is the development of a highly effective vaccine before the next world-wide epidemic hits us, the latter being a likely possibility because of the history of the disease.

Manners Make Friends

When drop-in guests stay past your lunch or dinner hour and you invite them to eat with you, don't keep apologizing for what you have. That will only make them feel that you wish they hadn't stayed to eat. Give them what you have—without the apology that would make what you serve seem less than what it is.

An average of a ship every 19 minutes goes through the locks at Sault Ste. Marie on the Great Lakes.

No Need to Remind Hubby He's Well and Truly Trapped

If you don't want to make a man feel trapped—Act pleased when he has a chance to spend a day fishing or a weekend hunting with a group of men, instead of feeling sorry for yourself for being left alone.

Wait for his explanation of why he was late to dinner instead of greeting him at the door with: "Where in the world have you been?"

Don't ask, "Who was that, Dear?" when he receives a telephone call at home.

Don't put him through a third-degree when he comes home from a club or lodge meeting. If he wants to tell you about it, listen. If he doesn't, tell him what you've been doing while he has been gone.

Don't keep harping on his past mistakes. Try to disprove that old saying that "women and elephants never forget."

DON'T TRESPASS ON WORK HOURS

Don't telephone him at work unless it is really necessary. He needs to be able to concentrate on business matters during business hours—and shouldn't feel that his family responsibilities will pursue him to the office.

Never tell him he simply MUST do something about a problem. Lead him toward the facing of an unpleasant situation—don't push him. Let him retire behind his newspaper or a book or magazine while he wants to. Interrupting his reading every few minutes won't give you the companionship you're seeking. Finding something to read, yourself, and being quiet probably will.

WLDS, Police Join In Campaign For Safety

For the next seven days you may win $5 just for being a safe driver. Radio Station WLDS in cooperation with the Illinois Division of Traffic Safety and the Jacksonville police department will conduct a safe driving contest beginning Wednesday, Nov. 23.

The contest will run for eight days, concluding on National Safe Driving Day, which is Thursday, Dec. 1.

Cooperating with WLDS on this special safe driving promotion are Alderman Dick Fitzsimmons, chairman of the city police committee; and Chief of Police Ike Flynn.

These officials and the management of WLDS hope to accomplish two things through the campaign.

First, they want to vividly call the attention of everyone to National Safe Driving Day which is Thursday, Dec. 1. The objective of this day is to have a perfect record for 24 hours with no accidents to report.

Second, they would like to extend the record to as many days as possible by encouraging safe driving every day.

Special Broadcast Car

Each week day beginning Wednesday, Nov. 23, WLDS will cruise the streets of Jacksonville with a special broadcast car. It will broadcast reports of driving habits of motorists as they are observed by members of the police force who will ride in the car.

As a motorist is observed to violate safety rules, these rules will be noted, and the correct procedure explained. Violators will not be identified.

When a driver who observes all safety rules is spotted his habits, too, will be described, and if he continues without error, his license number will be reported on the air along with a brief description of the car. He will not be stopped nor identified by name, but will be described as driver of a car of a certain make, model and color along with the license number.

$5 For Safe Drivers

The driver with the perfect safety record as described will then become eligible for that day's safe driving award. WLDS will present the driver with a $5 award upon proper identification.

The complete broadcast of the drive and identification of the winner will be broadcast over WLDS at 1 p.m. each day, Monday through Saturday from Wednesday, Nov. 23 to Thursday, Dec. 1.

To receive the award, the driver has only to properly identify himself at the station within 24 hours after the broadcast, and he or she will be $5 richer.

The contest is open to everyone. WLDS and officials of the police department would be most happy if this special safe driving campaign would result in a full week of no reportable automobile accidents in Jacksonville.

Dismiss Slander Suits Against Officer Who Swore

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Two $10,000 slander suits against an Air Force officer for profanity allegedly used in lecturing two enlisted men were dismissed Monday by Federal Judge W. R. Wallace.

Air Force sources said they were the first suits of their kind ever filed.

Wallace said language used by Lt. Col. Walter Callahan of New York was "extremely vulgar" but did not constitute slander or libel under Oklahoma law. He sustained a motion by the U. S. district attorney's office to dismiss the suits. The judge also held the enlisted men could not prove special damages.

A. C. John Crozman, West Lynn, Mass., and A. C. Miles Miller, Marysville, Pa., each contended in separate suits that Callahan's language tended to blacken and injure their honesty, virtue, integrity, morality and reputation and exposed them to public contempt and ridicule.

The incident occurred during the summer at Tinker Air Force Base here where all three were stationed, the enlisted men as guards. Callahan has since been transferred.

Young Democrats Of County Elated By Convention Choice

It has been announced by the local Young Democratic Club, an affiliate of the chartered Illinois Young Democrats, that Jacksonville was selected in executive committee session as the site for the 1956 Illinois state convention of the Young Democratic Clubs.

The local delegation which attended the annual state convention held in Chicago earlier this year, tendered the original bid and has since pursued selection of Jacksonville as the site.

During the period since the convention, the local organization has received splendid support in pledging cooperation with the activities during the period when the convention is convened here by many civic organizations and business establishments.

Other delegations actively bidding for the convention site were those of Rock Island and Decatur.

The local organization takes much pride in having obtained this political function of one of the major parties for this area, and especially Jacksonville which carries an ancient Democratic heritage since this city was named in honor of Andrew Jackson, a former president and standard bearer of the Democratic party.

Other notable national figures in the Democratic party to whom Jacksonville lays claim are William Jennings Bryan, The Silver

Tri-Lingual Fight Breeds $200,000 Suit For Damages

JANESVILLE, Wis. (AP)—A tri-lingual altercation has developed into a $200,000 civil damage suit filed by an American Millionaire's wife against a touring Spanish musician.

Mrs. Horace Dodge, ex-model Gregg Sherwood, alleges that "Escudero hit me" after she had declined to sing in Spanish on the grounds that she didn't know any Spanish.

Mario Escudero, who spoke to newsmen through an interpreter, said in a news conference statement at Detroit Monday night that "she insulted me in French."

The $200,000 suit was filed for Mrs. Dodge by Atty. Donald Dobson of Beloit in Circuit Court here Monday.

She also has filed an assault and battery charge against Escudero, who is slated to appear Friday in Beloit municipal court. At his arraignment, Saturday, Escudero posted $250 but entered no plea to the assault and battery charge.

The incident from which the litigation stems occurred Friday night in a Beloit restaurant where Mrs. Dodge and Escudero were customers. Escudero earlier had appeared with the dance troupe elsewhere in Beloit.

Mrs. Dodge said she was there with a party of friends and had been singing "a little just for fun" with a trio of house musicians.

She said one of the visitors asked her to sing in Spanish. She said that when she declined Escudero "came up and hit me."

Arriving in Detroit with the dance troupe Monday night, Escudero told newsmen he thought the shapely blonde "senora was a hostess."

"I tried to ignore her until she insulted me in French and then swung me around and struck me," Escudero said. "I turned and slapped her."

Mrs. Dodge denied speaking to Escudero before she was hit.

Jury Declines To Indict Negro Who Found Money Jug

DALLAS (AP)—A grand jury declined to indict a young Negro laborer who found a fortune in a vacuum jug under a house last January while digging a ditch for a sewer pipe.

Jackson Davis, 24, Corsicana, Tex., said there was $50,000 in the jug. The owner of the house, W. D. Felder Jr., said the money was not his but might have belonged to his late father.

Davis was jailed and subsequently charged with felony theft. He was released Oct. 6.

He has filed suit against Sheriff Bill Decker, Deputies Tom Marsh and Joe Ellis, and Felder asking for return of $45,170 which was turned over to the Dallas deputies.

The funds have been turned over to federal court.

Several other people have filed claims to the money.

Davis was arrested here after the sheriff received information he was spending money. He had started buying an automobile and had made a down payment on a home.

Brisk Business In Cosmetics For Men

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A facial make-up consultant to many movie stars today disclosed that she does a brisk business in cosmetics for men.

"It's not what you think," said French-born Aida Grey. "These are virile men, some of them husbands of famous movie stars. Others are famous stars themselves."

She disclosed no names but told how she got started on the unusual sideline in her salon.

"I noticed that some of my feminine customers kept coming back too soon for refills, so I asked why."

Without exception, the girls answered: "My husband uses it too."

Now she prepares the stuff for both momma and poppa.

MAY PUT LETTER IN PACKAGE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Just in time for Christmas, the Post Office Department is relaxing its rules to permit inclusion of personal messages in package, and second-class mail. But you still have to pay the extra postage.

Heretofore putting a letter inside a package made the sender liable to as much as a $100 fine. The new arrangement is effective Monday.

All that's necessary is to note on the outside of the package that a letter is enclosed and put an additional stamp on the package.

Experts say that between 1 and 2 per cent of the population is mentally retarded.

Interpreting The News
By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The General Assembly of the U. N. has been in session now for nine weeks. On few days has its activity attracted much attention.

The pattern of world affairs today is not the pattern of peace, but the pattern of violence and threat of violence.

In a world where men have reasoned their way to at least a partial understanding of the universe, they still seem far away from the wisdom needed to arrange their political affairs.

The French are pouring troops into an effort to halt terrorism in Morocco. There's fighting in the streets of Bombay. Indonesian government troops fight sporadically with rebel forces throughout the islands.

The British are having to renew their military campaigns against Communist guerrilla forces in Malaya, and meet rioting on Cyprus with force.

Men are dying almost daily along the Egyptian-Israeli border and there is definite threat of war.

Remnants of Vietnam Communist forces are still fighting in Laos in violation of the Geneva truce. Remnants of Chiang Kai-shek's nationalist forces which fled to Burma under Communist pressure are still fighting the Burmese much after the fashion of bandits.

In Latin America the two most powerful countries, Brazil and Argentina, are governed only with the help of troops.

In South Africa natives are forcibly removed from their homes as a nationalist government seeks to establish what the United States is trying so hard to disestablish—racial segregation.

The Russian government still considers that its only good opponents are dead opponents, although there will be little world sympathy for the late Lavrenty Beria's secret police aides.

This list of physical violence, which could be expanded with only a little research, is, however, merely a symptom as compared with the underlying violence of thought which pervades world affairs. The only wonder is that, after 10 years of the most grueling tensions, the list has not been shortened to one all-encompassing violence—world war.

The only bright note in the world today is that the nations are all afraid of war. Perhaps that will give time for the substitution of reason. But force still seems to shackle human imagination.

GREENFIELD ALUMNI TO SPONSOR HOLIDAY DANCES AT SCHOOL

GREENFIELD — President Claude C. Sousley of the Greenfield Alumni Association has announced that the alumni are sponsoring holiday dances to be held in the high school gymnasium. On Thanksgiving night the Ken-Don orchestra of Alton will furnish the music.

The November meeting of the Parent Teachers Association was held Thursday night in the high school auditorium. Greene county superintendent of schools, Mrs. Theima Wilkinson, was the speaker. Mrs. Harold Ford was program chairman and Earlom Rives and Howard Elmore rendered musical selections. Mrs. Merlyn Scanlon and Mrs. Howard Elmore were room mothers and chairmen of arrangements and mothers of the seventh grade students were hostesses during the social hour.

Rev. Robert Pitsch of Carrollton was the guest speaker of the Methodist Mens meeting at the church Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served following the program. Dr. E. G. de Quevedo has returned home after visiting at the homes of relatives and friends in Puerto Rico. He made the trip via plane.

CARROLLTON

CARROLLTON — Mrs. Thera Singleton, Greene county circuit clerk and Mrs. Florence Bennett of Roodhouse were members of the receiving committee Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Henry T. Rainey Club held in Jerseyville.

Mrs. Callie Short returned home Tuesday from Ferguson where she had been a guest since Sunday of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Short.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cravens, Ray Garvalis and Miss Betty Ann Siebermann of St. Louis were dinner guests Sunday evening of Miss Siebermann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Siebermann. Miss Siebermann who is employed in St. Louis is leaving Friday on a vacation which she will spend in Fort Worth, Texas at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Shockey in San Antonio, Tex. at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Siebermann.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Giller of Chicago are spending this week here with their sisters, Miss Gussie Giller and Mrs. P. A. Daum Sr. having been called here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Giller's brother, W. Moore which was held Wednesday afternoon at Simpson Funeral Home.

The FFA and the FHA of the Carrollton Community Unit High School are sponsoring a barn dance in the school gymnasium Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Siebermann spent Wednesday afternoon in St. Louis.

Miss Helen Crist, second grade teacher in the local grade school was a luncheon guest Tuesday of Judy Pitsch at the home of her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Pitsch.

INGENIOUS DEHYDRATION

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—U. S. aid funds are being used to develop a food dehydration industry in Formosa.

The dehydrated food already is being shipped to Quemoy, Matsu and other islands lying off the shores of Red China.

Reaction of Nationalist troops on these perilous outposts has been enthusiastic.

Various plants in different parts of Formosa are turning out dehydrated vegetables, fruit, fish and rice. Much ingenuity is being displayed. In some cases, farmers used a bicycle to spin a wheel that powers a fan, blowing air into mounds of rice.

Stevenson Gets Going On Bid For Demo Nomination

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson appears to be wasting no time in getting right down to business in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Monday, in the wake of a busy week in which he announced his candidacy and became one of the principal figures in a huge Democratic rally in Chicago, he formed the "National Stevenson for President Committee."

He also held a brief news conference at the opening of the committee's headquarters in which he said there is "greatly increased" support for his candidacy.

Barry Bingham, president of the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times Co., and Mrs. Edison Dick, wife of a Chicago industrialist, are co-chairmen of the committee.

Archibald Alexander, Democratic national committeeman for New Jersey, will serve as director.

Stevenson, the only announced candidate for the Democratic nomination, told newsmen he was "re-assured by the state of mind of the party" as he found it during last week's Democratic rally.

Asked if his use of the word "moderation" in his speech Saturday night wasn't contrary to former President Truman's "liberal progressive" view, Stevenson said: "I hope mine was a liberal progressive program. It speaks for itself."

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee, told newsmen the committee was designed to reach voters who would not normally be reached through Democratic party organizations.

The committee said its job will be to coordinate state and local Stevenson volunteer groups and solicit "financial support."

LIGHT LATHE
CINCINNATI (AP)—A lathe so light and safe a child can operate it has been developed here.

It weighs 16 pounds, is 27 inches long, nine inches high, seven inches wide, and has a 1.35 horsepower electric motor which is enclosed inside the lathe.

It does not have gears or belts and can be stopped with the fingers without injury, according to the manufacturer. Yet it is said to possess sufficient "turning torque" to perform a good power job of cutting wood, plastics and aluminum.

SUPERSONIC Bomber TESTED
EDWARDS, Calif. (AP)—Republic Aviation Corp. has announced the successful flight testing of the new supersonic F105A fighter-bomber. It was developed to fill the need for a supersonic fighter-bomber capable of delivering nuclear weapons as well as heavier loads of conventional bombs and rockets at extremely high speeds over a long range.

The initial flight was Oct. 22 and 12 others have been made since, the company said. Performance details are classified secret.

GUESTS AT HARRIS HOME
Guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Harris, 320 Fulton street, were Mr. and Mrs. Ashel Stanberry, city; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stanberry, Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stanberry and family of Roodhouse; Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and family of Decatur, Mich.; Miss Beverly Stanberry and Russell Rice of Roodhouse. Also Miss Joyce and Susie Watson of this city.

BURNT OFFERING
ERIE, Pa. (AP)—"It was well done," firemen said after answering an alarm at the home of Kenneth Peterson.

It took them only 10 seconds to bring the blaze under control. Loss was small but the meat that caught fire was well done.

RITES HELD FOR FORMER ROODHOUSE WOMAN IN SANGAMON

ROODHOUSE—Funeral services for Miss Love Jane Good, former Roodhouse resident, were held Saturday afternoon at the Thomas C. Smith's Sons funeral home in Springfield conducted by Rev. J. N. Gibbins.

Burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Personals
Mrs. Kenneth Bridgman and foster son, Harold Graves, and Max Barnett, Bluffs, visited Saturday in the home of her mother, Mrs. Eva Siebenmann.

Mrs. Lena Wyatt, Jacksonville, visited in the home of Mrs. Stanley Smock, Friday night, and attended the Past Nobles Grand party that evening.

Ed Elliott has returned home from Our Saviour's hospital, Jacksonville, where he has been receiving treatment.

ROODHOUSE DOCTOR, WIFE ENTERTAIN FOR MRS. McIVER

ROODHOUSE—Mrs. Virgie McIver was feted at a surprise dinner held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. N. J. Bucklin on the eve of her birthday anniversary, Friday.

Others present besides the guest of honor and her host and hostess were Dr. N. J. Bucklin's other office employees, Miss Bernadine Lewis and Miss Evelyn May. Also in attendance were Mrs. Amelia Andrews, Mrs. Ethelyn Cuddy and Mrs. J. W. Keller.

Mrs. McIver received a number of lovely gifts from those present.

HUNTING BY RADIO
HELENA, Mont. (AP)—A Drummond stockman, Mayne Hill, radioed for a gun when he saw a bear. He spooked the bear into brush. While wondering what to do next, he saw a Blackfoot Forest Protective Assn. patrol car. Patrolman Art Ahlin radioed a lookout station which called Hill's son, Byron, at school. Byron got to the scene with a gun and his daddy bagged the bear.

NEW LEASE ON LIFE
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—At a medical meeting Dr. Thomas M. Durant of Temple University read a paper on old age and how to nurse the spark of life.

When he finished, D. O. M. Marchman of Dallas spoke up: "I wish to state that after hearing you, I propose to take a lease on my offices for another 10 years." Marchman is 83.

Kills Friend In William Tell Stunt At Drinking Party

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A Knoxville man was shot and killed Monday night by a friend who was aiming at a pepper box atop his head. Police said the shooting came as the climax to a drinking party.

Dead is Raymond V. Baker, 40, with a pistol bullet wound in the head.

Knox County police arrested his friend, James Bowerman, also 40, and charged him with manslaughter.

Capt. Estel Wrinkle said Bowerman and Baker went to a tavern Monday after they got off work at an iron company and drank beer. Later they went to McCall's home and drank a pint of moonshine whiskey.

Then the trio went to Bowerman's rural home. While there, Bowerman showed the men his fishing equipment, rifles, a shotgun and a .32-caliber foreign-made pistol.

A discussion arose as to whether the pistol would shoot. Baker picked up a plate from a kitchen table and Bowerman shot a hole in it.

Baker placed a potato on his head, but Bowerman refused to shoot it because it was "too flat."

Baker then picked up a black pepper box, set it on his head and told Bowerman:

"Be sure and don't miss that pepper box."

Bowerman backed off about 10 feet, took aim and fired.

Baker slumped into a chair with a bullet wound in the head.

Coroner Carl Hickam said the two men were the best of friends.

STUMP IS FIRST AGAIN
FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—The honor of filing the first paid entry for the 1956 American Bowling Congress Masters tournament has gone to Don Stump of Fort Wayne for the second straight year.

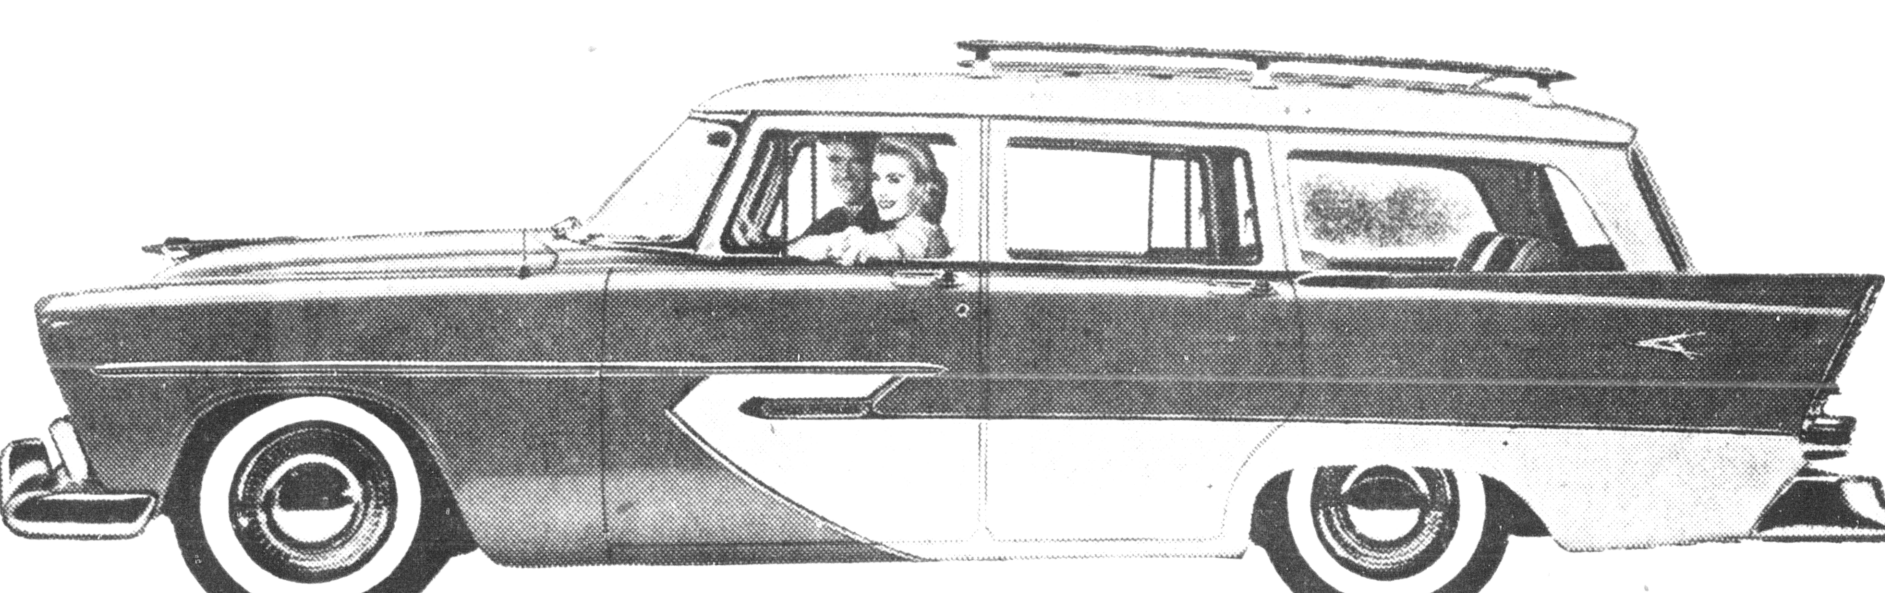

Qualifying dates are May 12-13 with double elimination play starting the night of May 13. The final field will be 64 men. First prize, won last spring by Buzz Fazio of Detroit, again will be $1,000.

Teacher From Ceylon Addresses AAUW Guests At College

On Saturday afternoon, November 19, the American Association of University Women met in the social room of MacMurray College. The president, Miss Mabel Ruyle, welcomed the senior girls of MacMurray College and Illinois College, who were guests of the Association.

In a brief business meeting Miss Ruyle announced that the January meeting of the University Women will be held jointly with the League of Women Voters on January 21, a meeting which will be open to the public. It was also decided that the AAUW will join other community organizations in the pageant for "putting Christ into Christmas."

MRS. RAJARATNAM, U. OF I. INSTRUCTOR

Mrs. Ernest Savage, program coordinator, presented as speaker of the afternoon Mrs. Nageswari Rajaratnam of Ceylon who is doing graduate work in education at the University of Illinois on an AAUW fellowship. A candidate for the M.A. degree in education at the Ceylon University, Mrs. Rajaratnam teaches mathematics to university entrance students.

In giving a brief sketch of her life, Mrs. Rajaratnam indicated that though a member of a conservative family, she has led an unconventional life. Although her mother's chief concern was to select suitable husbands for her daughters, one daughter was unwilling to accept, unseen, the man of her mother's choosing. In fact she delayed marriage for several years, being determined to have an education, and ultimately chose a husband "out of caste," who like herself was a teacher.

Located southeast of India, the island of Ceylon, much smaller than the state of Illinois, is made up of many cultures and religions. Mrs. Rajaratnam stated that, in spite of the great differences, they all get along rather well together. The Portuguese, Dutch, and British have, in turn, established schools. Most children learn several languages. Mrs. Rajaratnam's seven year old son speaks English, Sinhalese, and Tamil. When Buddhists came, they believed in education for all. Besides the strong Buddhists there are Moslems, Catholics and Protestants of many varieties. The speaker received her education in a British Methodist Mission.

Mrs. Rajaratnam showed color films of her country, which indicated that urban areas are progressive in their architecture but that in transportation the primitive survives along with newer methods. The elephant travels the same street as cars and buses, probably because of its usefulness in travel over places on the island where there is rough and difficult terrain.

The homes in rural districts seem much more humble, though throughout the island, one sees beautifully carved temples and mosques. In fact, every rocky mountain side or sizable stone seems to have offered a challenge to some able sculptor to carve either a religious figure or important ruler.

Rice, tea, and rubber are some of the crops of Ceylon. Fishing is a profitable occupation because of the great length of coast. The thatched cottages of fishermen and their picturesque boats attract the attention of an onlooker.

After showing the films, Mrs. Rajaratnam invited the guests to examine the artistic drawings and other hand work she had brought from Ceylon.

Refreshments were served from an attractive tea table decorated in the colors of the two colleges. Mrs. Wendell Dyringer and Mrs. Earl Miller poured. Members of the tea committee were Mrs. Ralph Robbins, chairman, Mrs. Wendell Dyringer, Mrs. John Hackett, Miss Mabel Owsley, Mrs. Dale Holmes, Mrs. R. G. Anderson, Mrs. Richard Cutts, Mrs. Seymour Halliwell, Miss Betty Lonergan, Miss Elizabeth Caldwell and Mrs. Paul Keller.

VIRGINIA

The Providence Household Science Club met at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon November 10 with Mrs. Ed Davis, Mrs. Al Ackerman as assistant hostess. The president, Mrs. J. M. Smith, was in charge of the meeting.

This was the 31st anniversary of the organization of the club and a paper on "Club Memories" was presented by Miss Margaret McFord. Miss McFord remembered each present member, 13 former members and closed with a tribute to each departed member, after which Mrs. Russell Knight sang "Bless Be the Tie That Binds."

Roll call was responded to by giving a favorite meat for the Thanksgiving menu and by paying dues.

The assistant hostess, Mrs. Ackerman, baked large gold angel food cake, frosted with white icing, which carried out the club colors of gold and white. It made a centerpiece for the dining table from which refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, homemade donuts, birthday cake, tea and coffee were served.

Personals

Mrs. Luella Wolff of this city joined Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Litter of Jacksonville, and all were guests of Peoria relatives and friends Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Minnah Fanning was entertained at dinner in Beardstown Saturday evening by six sons and their wives and one grandson. Sunday 32 members of her family gathered at her home and enjoyed a dinner. Her mother, Mrs. Margaret Briggs, 86, was the oldest person present.

Mrs. Wilma Bennett has been called to Warrington, Fla., by the illness of her small grandson, who is suffering from leukemia. The child is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bennett.

FEMALE OF THE SPECIES

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP)—A 58-year-old Oklahoma City man may find it hard to face his friends after pleading guilty to a charge of being drunk.

His embarrassment came when he lost a four-block chase to one of the city's newest police officers, one of six women hired primarily for issuing parking tickets in the downtown business district. First the woman officer, Mildred Jones, pushed him down and after he got up, chased him four blocks until a scout car with two policemen caught them and made the arrest. "I was just making sure he didn't get away," she said.

He was given a $12 fine by Police Judge Mike Foster.

NO INSTALLMENTS

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Jack B. Cody, a small loan office manager, neglected to make his payments promptly on 17 parking tickets that would have cost him $24 in all. Some of them were more than five months old.

The judge declined to grant Cody's plea for three or four days time to raise money to meet his larger obligation—a fine of $3425.

Prompt payment of the tickets, said Cody "was just one of those things I never got around to."

Boat-a-Cade

The Boat-a-Cade nears Camp Kicco, on the Kissimmee river, for first overnight stop.

THE SIXTH ANNUAL Kissimmee-Okeechobee Boat-a-Cade from Lake Tohopekaliga to Lake Okeechobee was a success this year. If the preceding sentence sounds like crazy, mixed-up Indian language, here's the translation. This year some 600 boats carrying about 1,600 persons shoved off from the shores of Florida's Lake Tohopekaliga, in the northern tip of Oseola county, and headed down the Kissimmee river to Lake Okeechobee. This Boat-a-Cade is for boating enthusiasts and consists of an over-water trek through dense, jungle-bounded waterways. Represented in the two-day voyage were boating fans from every section of Florida as well as from 23 other states. A celebration greeted the "seafarers" when they reached their goal.

PILGRIMAGE OF THE DEVOUT—Pilgrims of El Cristo del Rey pay homage to this 42-foot-high marble statue of Christ near El Paso, Tex. The statue is said to be the largest monument of Christ on the continent of North America.

LIVES HIGH OFF THE HOG—Tootsie is one porker who isn't doomed to wind up as bacon, ham or sausage. She ran away from home and the Sabater family of Gradyville, Pa., took a non-edible liking to her. She's now one of the family. Mary puts Tootsie to bed in what was once a doll crib.

Day of the Outlaw

DARROW shifted slightly and threw a sidelong glance at Pace. Odium remained stretched out on his blankets, his eyes glittering with excitement, but his arms remained under his head. It concerned Tex and he could not determine whether Pace was neutral or might take a hand either way when the bullets started flying. Juarez realized that Denver had maneuvered to threaten him and the breed no longer could back Tex's play against Bruhn.

Tex's eyes cut back to Jack. He couldn't read the odds and Tex was always a man who liked to see them his way. He licked his lips and Jack knew that the showdown had again been deferred. But he did not relax, his hand still taloned.

"It kind of leaves me locking horns, don't it, Jack?" he asked in a tight voice. Jack nodded.

"Maybe we're previous, Jack." He looked at the window where the snow still fell. "We sure ain't going anywhere in this. We can divide the money later."

"Nine ways," Jack said, voice level. Tex flushed with anger for a moment, then it vanished.

"No point in arguing now. By the time the blizzard's over we can tell how Shorty will do."

The storm continued through the rest of the day, but some time deep in the night it passed. When Bruhn opened his eyes the next morning, sunlight streamed its early red rays into the windows.

He threw back his blankets and strode to the window, looked out. The noise awakened the others.

They hurried through breakfast. As he ate, Jack waited to catch Pace Olum's eye and he finally succeeded. He made a slight signal and the youngster barely nodded.

Odium calmly lifted his coffee mug. "I need some more of this."

Jack's heavy face fell but he tried to hide it with a quick shrug. "You're saying you don't owe me nothing."

Pace arose and stretched. "Something like that, Jack. I was no drag to the bunch when I threw in with it, and I've carried my load ever since. We're even."

AT the Frazin home, Hal Crane straightened after shoveling a path from the house to the store. Vic and Bob stood breathing hard beside him, leaning on their shovels. Hal thought of his stock and he tentatively kicked at the ice. If this didn't go quick, he'd be in trouble... and so would every ranch in the valley.

Not far away, Dan Murdock and Phil Preston bent their backs to the shovels, and the path from the house to the big fence of the lumber yard.

Phil brought them up when they had finally reached the office. "Dan, isn't there something we can do? Every minute those renegades are in town, I feel like I'm living on top of a powder keg with a lit fuse."

Dan sighed. "No guns. They watch us like hawks. If we make a move, they'll be ready for it." Dan looked directly at Phil. "This time they might be mad enough to take it out on the whole town."

DAN followed the path across the street went into the store. Gene Hiatt had been leaning across the counter and he hastily pulled himself up and turned toward Dan. Ernie took a step back and for the first time Dan saw that the girl was actually flushed. Dan realized he had interrupted an intimate conversation.

"A couple sacks of tobacco," he said mildly. Her head lifted in surprise and her eyes were suddenly warm and deep. She started to say something, instead changed her mind and hurried away to fill his order.

Ernie returned. He knew that she and Hiatt exchanged glances but still they said nothing.

"Thanks," Dan said, and then started toward the door. Hiatt's voice stopped him.

"Murdock!" Dan turned as Hiatt came up. The young man studied Dan, made a grimace and tugged at his ear.

"Could I talk to you, Murdock?"

"Sure," Dan waited. Hiatt glanced around the store.

"Not here. Private."

I.S.D. Tigers Open 1955-56 Season With Victory Over Waverly

Expert Predicts Fewer Mallards In 1956 Season

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—There are a lot less Mallard drakes than many sportsmen think, one waterfowl expert says, and certainly not enough to justify a bonus harvest of an extra one. Drakes are male ducks.

Frank Bellrose, Illinois natural history survey biologist, says hunters often ask why not have an extra allowance for shooting drakes. Such hunters contend there are too many of the males, especially in the Mallard species.

"From evaluating sex ratios all over the nation we find the Mallard has the least imbalance in the direction of the drake than any species of duck. It amounts to a 5 to 6 per cent excess, a lot less than most people think," says Bellrose.

Practically, Bellrose remarks, hunters may have difficulty in telling whether they are shooting a drake or a hen, because in early season the Mallard drake has drab plumage like the hen. Moreover, some extra drakes are useful in remating with hens which have lost their first nests.

It's the business of hatching and rearing young widow that seems to cause a greater mortality among the hens and to account for much of the imbalance between the sexes.

The sitting hen is subject to attack by many predators. On top of this, laying eggs, rearing young and moulting all within a short space drain strength to cope with the problems of waterfowl life.

Species that are hunted less than Mallards show a greater lack of balance between the sexes, Bellrose says, because such species generally live longer. The diving ducks generally are hunted less than Mallards. Bluebills are an example.

The older a duck population gets, the greater is the spread between the rate of survival of drakes and hens, with hens dying at a faster rate.

Bellrose, whose studies have included evidence taken all over the North American continent, says more data are needed on productivity and mortality rates of ducks.

Bellrose says productivity varies among duck species and this may be caused by a difference in mortality between species. If this can be proved, he said, it will be proof to some degree that ducks can compensate for increased mortality by increased reproduction.

Navy Captain Says Army Game More Than Football

BY GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (P)—"Army Navy represents more than a football game. It's one service against the other," Capt. John Hopkins of the Midshipmen said Tuesday through his wired throat and with a glint in his eye.

"We got a big job to do and there can be only one outcome," said the big tackle from Brooklyn, N.Y.

Hopkins is lucky to be able to play Saturday in Philadelphia. The inside of his jaw was cracked in practice last week and a tricky dental job was necessary to get him ready.

He is deadly serious about the military aspect of the game. Along with quarterback George Welsh and end Ronnie Beagle, he was asked about Navy's attitude toward Army's quarterback, Don Hollender, who was converted from end.

All agreed it was the most difficult switch possible in football. Welsh and Beagle indicated, without saying so in so many words, they doubted if it could be accomplished with a great deal of efficiency in one year.

But Hopkins brushed aside such thoughts.

"When you think of Army you don't just think of a quarterback," he said. "You think of 11 guys. The football is the same this year as it has been for the last 50 or 60 years."

"It's Army. Four letters. That's all."

As for their own team, the trio of key players agreed that it's very much the same as last year's which beat Army 27-20.

"Certainly it's no worse," said Welsh. "I'd say it's about on a par. Last year's team could do some things better and this year's does others better."

SPORTS TRAIL

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (P)—Harry Evons, a Green's fellow with a wide-open face, breezed in from the wide-open spaces of Texas to tell about the Milk Bowl football game to be held Dec. 10 at the Alamo Stadium in San Antonio.

If you don't know about the Milk Bowl or the competing teams, you have plenty of company, as most people interested in a Milk Bowl are just interested in a bowl of milk.

However, Evons' own enthusiasm and the fact that 23,000 football followers will turn out to watch the Denver, Colo., Presentation Parochial School eleven play the Oak Cliff Ponies of Dallas in this seventh renewal of the game indicates it has considerable merit, although the members of the team are kids from 10 to 14 years old, inclusive.

"The boys put on a real show," Evons said. "It's strictly a charity affair, with the charities supported by the Alamo Heights Lions Club, which sponsors the game."

We wondered a little about the extent of the organization of teams in this category, and how the rival teams were chosen for the bowl game.

"There is no national organization," Evons said, "but there are about 4,900 such teams in the country, and about 100 of them wanted to play in this year's game."

"Texas alone has about 500 teams, and one of the teams in the bowl always is a Texas team. It's really Texas against the rest of the country."

We began to see why so many Texas colleges can have so many good football teams. They have not only possibly the most extensive high school athletic program in the country down there, but they're also starting to train the kids before they reach high school.

Evons went on to explain some of the rules and regulations governing the play of these juvenile Davey Crocketts.

"The boys are limited to a maximum of 110 pounds in weight," he said. "Otherwise you'd have some pretty big kids out there, as a lot of 13 and 14-year-olds are man 6 size."

"The games are played with 12-minute quarters, and no boy plays more than half a game. The even-numbered jerseys play one quarter, and the odd-numbered the next."

"The boys are required to wear face masks, and also rubber cleats. We've never had a serious injury in any of the games. It costs from $800 to $1,200 to outfit a team."

CHICAGO WHITE SOX RELEASES WINTER ROSTER TUESDAY

CHICAGO (P)—A winter roster of 41 players, including 18 pitchers, was released Tuesday by the Chicago White Sox.

The squad includes three returned servicemen who do not count against the club's 40-player limit—pitchers Bill Dufour and Russ Heman, and infielder Sam Esposito.

The Sox hope to solidify the gap at shortstop with such bidders as Carl Peterson, who hit 306 for San Diego of the Pacific Coast League; Jim Bredeweser, Sox utility infielder last season; Esposito, who hit 281 for Memphis of the Southern Assn. after finishing a 'four of military duty, and flashy Luis Aparicio.

It would surprise no one if the Sox pull a deal for a veteran shortstop before pitching camp at Tampa, Fla., in February.

CHICAGO TO HOLD NATIONAL BOWLING MATCH DEC. 9-13

CHICAGO (P)—A field of 160 men and 64 women will compete in the 15th all-star national individual match game bowling championships at the Chicago Coliseum Dec. 9-13.

Sectional qualifying trials for the meet, sponsored by the Bowling Proprietors Assn. of America, now are in progress and the entry deadline is Nov. 25.

To win the men's first prize of $2,000, a bowler must top his field through 100 games—24 in the preliminaries, 12 in the semifinals and 16 four-game matches in the finals.

On the women's side it will be 16 games in the prelims, 8 in the semifinals and 16 two-game matches.

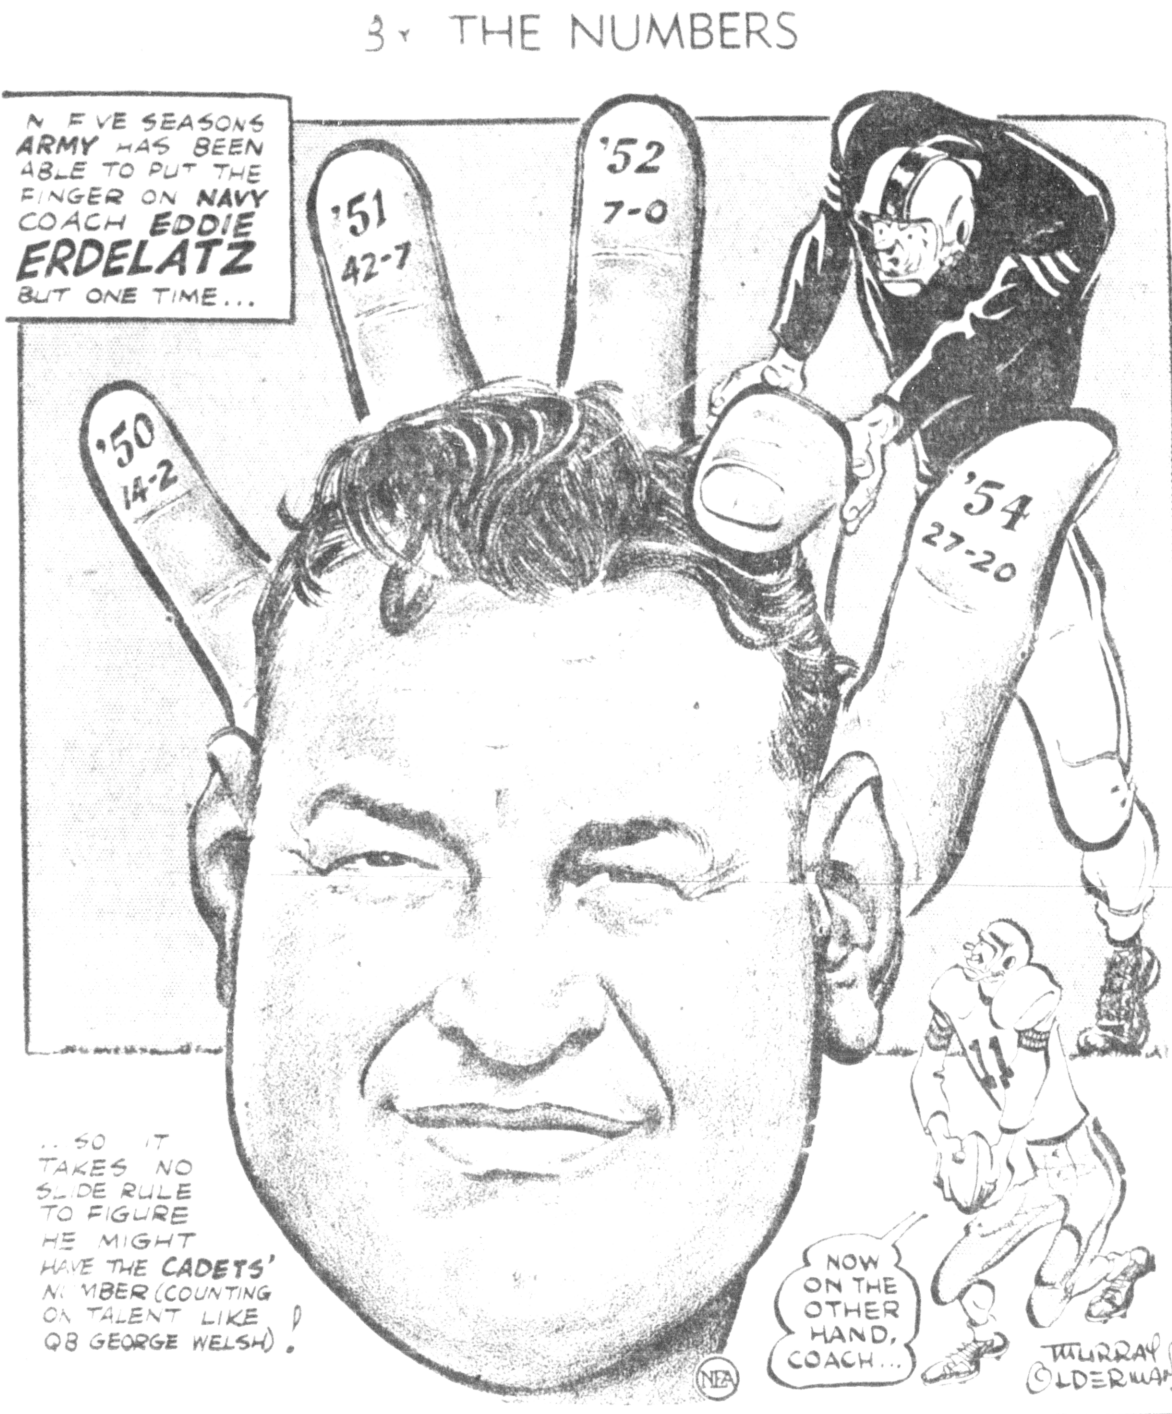

FOOTBALL INJURIES FATAL TO 18 YEAR OLD
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (P)—A Walnut Ridge, Ark., high school football player died Tuesday of injuries suffered in a practice session.

Homer Lovelady Jr., 18, was admitted to Baptist Hospital Monday night suffering from a fractured skull.

RUTGERS COACH ASSIGNED TO OTHER DUTIES
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (P)—Harvey J. Harman, head coach of the Rutgers football team for 14 years, will not be assigned to coaching next year, the university announced Tuesday.

Harman, whose team won three games and lost five this season, will be assigned to other duties. He holds the faculty rank of professor of physical education.

Army Coach Rates Navy Team As The Best Since 1950 Series

WEST POINT, N. Y. (P)—Army's

Earl (Red) Blaik rates the present Navy football team as the "best we've faced" during Eddie Erdelatz' coaching tenure at Annapolis.

"This Navy club has exceptional speed, depth and experience," the West Point mentor said Tuesday shortly before a contact scrimmage. "We feel it's the hardest-hitting team Erdelatz has ever seen against us."

Since Erdelatz took over Navy coaching reins in 1950, Blaik's accolades have managed to beat him only once—that a 20-7 triumph in 1953.

Navy won 14-2 in 1950, 42-7 the following year after the West Point cribbing scandal and 7-0 in 1952. Last year George Welsh led the Midshipmen to a 27-20 victory.

The Midshipmen, beaten only by

Notre Dame and tied by Duke, rule a touchdown favorite over the Cadets, who lost to Michigan, Syracuse and Yale, in the 56th annual service spectacle Saturday in Philadelphia.

"We have good speed, too," Blaik said, "but when it comes to players and experience we can't stack up against Navy. They have wonderful personnel down there."

Army, however, may be at near full strength for the first time this season with Bob Kyasky, out most of the season, ready for spot duty and Joe Cygler, an all-around performer, recovered from a first game ankle injury.

The Cadets are banking heavily on Don Hollender, the converted end who leads the team at quarterback, and Mike Zeigler from Fairborn, Ohio, who has been hampered by injuries and disciplinary measures.

Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy

ended his collegiate career at Ohio State in a blaze of headlines Saturday to earn Associated Press recognition as "back of the week."

The 1954 All-America halfback from Columbus, Ohio set up a freakish field goal and scored one touchdown as Ohio State knocked Michigan out of the Rose Bowl picture with a 17-0 triumph. Although Ohio State won the Big Ten title for the second straight year, it can't return to Pasadena under conference rules against repeat performances.

Cassidy, a senior, gained 146 yards in 28 rushes and spun out of many tackles with legs churning. His performance boosted his career total to 37 touchdowns and 222 points in four years as he played varsity ball as a freshman.

Hopalong's performance stood out because he turned it on in the clutch in the big game of the day.

There were many other backs around the country whose dazzling deeds put them in the running for the honor, including Notre Dame's Paul Hornung, Washington's Creighton Eskimos, Tuesday was voted the native Canadian football player of the year.

Sportswriters and sportscasters of senior football league cities from Montreal to Vancouver picked the 25-year-old China Clipper as the best homebred player of 1955.

IRISH PRACTICE PASSING ATTACK

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (P)—Notre Dame turned up its passing attack Tuesday with Coach Terry Brennan warning that Southern California may force the Irish to take to the air Saturday.

The Irish will leave for Los Angeles by chartered plane Thursday morning.

Veteran trainers at Hialeah this winter will be led by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, 81-year-old man behind 3-year-old champion Nashua. Ben Jones is next at 72 with Preston M. Burch 71.

Heid scoreless in their first six games this season, Ed Sutton and Buddy Sasser exploded for North Carolina against South Carolina. They scored five touchdowns with Sasser getting three.

Hall of Fame bowler Junie McMahon is part owner of a 24-lane academy at Paramus, N.J.

Sports Scribe Picks Army To Win Over Navy 21-14 Saturday

By WILL GRIMSLEY

WEST POINT, N. Y. (P)—Balky mule or bearded goat—that's the big choice to make this week.

It's the 56th Army-Navy football game at Philadelphia, the sport's premier spectacle.

Navy's Coach Eddie Erdelatz has lost only once to Army since 1950. The Midshipmen have the superior season's record, 6-1-1 to Army's 5-3. The odds are with Navy, but with 26-10 last week and a season's average of 725 out goes the neck again.

Army 21, Navy 14. Coach Red Blaik has the Cadets at near full strength for the first time this season. Quarterback Don Hollender finally has hit his stride. Army's defense, coached by George Welsh & Co., contain Georgia Tech 14 Georgia 12 Georgia, coming fast would like nothing better than to knock Tech out of a bowl. A close game at Athens with an upset possible.

The others: Thursday Chattanooga 24 Memphis State 7, Colgate 14, Brown 6, Cornell 19, Pennsylvania 14, Miami (Ohio) 20, Cincinnati 6, Denver 25, West Virginia 12, Utah 26, Utah State 7, Virginia Tech 28, Virginia Military 16.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned in a sparkling recovery drive Tuesday that gained strength as it rolled ahead.

For most of the past week, the market has been going through an irregular period of consolidation with prices drifting lower.

Tuesday the market started ahead and seemed to gain support as it went. Higher prices brought out more buying and that demand in turn helped to push prices still higher.

Brokers felt that the market demonstrated its ability to rise despite the restraining hand of the Federal Reserve Board which last week raised its discount rate to make money more expensive in a blow at inflationary forces.

Gains Tuesday ran to $1 to $3 in most major areas and some gains topped that. Losses usually were small.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.90 at $179.30. Last Wednesday the average was within $1.20 of the record high of $181.50 reached Sept. 23 just before the big break on news of the President's heart attack.

Many in Wall Street think the traditional year-end rally will start—if at all—around Thanksgiving this year. How they arrived at that conclusion is their own secret. Therefore, the strong showing in Tuesday's market raised bright hopes that these forecasters are right and that the market will continue on ahead.

The industrial component of the average Tuesday gained $2.50 and the rails were up $2.30 with utilities ahead 30 cents.

Volume amounted to 2,270,000 shares, a significant increase from Monday's 1,960,000.

The American Stock Exchange was mostly higher on volume of 740,000 shares as compared with 550,000 traded Monday.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—A 50 to 75-cent break in butchers and sows dumped hogs into new low ground in nearly 14 years Tuesday.

Top price was $12.25, paid for 300 head. This was 65 cents from the previous day and the lowest top quotation since $12.15 was paid Jan. 30, 1942.

Heavy receipts, totaling 22,000 head, were partly responsible for the break. In addition, packers had supplies on hand and Thursday is a holiday. The arrivals were largest for a Tuesday in over four years.

Butchers weighing 100 to 220 pounds brought $11.00 to $12.00, 220 to 240 pounds $10.25 to $11.00, and 270 to 330 pounds $10.00 to $10.50. Sows sold from $9.00 to $10.25.

In the cattle section, where saleable receipts totaled 10,000, choice and prime steers were steady to strong and other grades weak to 25 cents lower. Heifers held fully steady.

Prime steers topped at $24.50. Other choice and prime kinds went at $18.00 to $23.75. Comparable heifers were taken at $19.50 to $22.00.

Cows were steady to weak at $9.25 to $12.00 for utility and commercial and $7.75 to $9.75 for canners and cutters. Vealers were steady to $1.00 higher. A few head of prime reached $24.00. Practical top was $23.00 with most cull to commercial selling for $9.00 to $17.00.

Salable sheep receipts totaled 4,000. In an active trade, lambs sold strong to 25 cents higher at $18.00 to $20.00 for good to prime woolled types.

GAINS, LOSSES JUST ABOUT BALANCE ON MARKET TUESDAY

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—A mixed grain market ended with plus and minus signs just about balanced on the Board of Trade Tuesday.

Corn registered small gains and so did rye. Oats were mostly a shade lower. Soybeans weakened from the start while wheat fell off in the closing minutes.

Trading was a little more active than in the previous session, when turnover totaled only 27,062,000 bushels compared with 52,791,000 bushels on the same day a year ago.

Wheat closed 1/4-1/2 lower, corn 1/4-1/2 higher, oats unchanged to 1/4 lower, rye 1/4-1/2 higher, soybeans 1/4 to 2 cents lower and lard unchanged to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower.

A falling off in cash corn receipts, which totaled 167 cars, and firmness in the cash market helped corn futures. More important, the discount for No. 2 yellow corn under the December contract was narrowed. It was 6 1/2 cents compared with around 8 cents Monday.

Wheat trading continued very dull with selling coming from discouraged longs. Brazil was authorized to buy 9,250,000 bushels of American wheat following signing of a trade agreement last week.

Soybeans were easier from the start. They rallied about midway in the session, largely on short covering, but quickly fell back. Soybean meal in the spot market continued to be the main drag on soybeans. At $47.00 to $48.00 a ton meal equalled its 10-year low.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Selected rails and industrials milled indecisively in a mixed bond market Tuesday. U. S. Treasury bonds rallied for the first time since the boosting of the Federal Reserve Bank's discount rate last Friday.

Corporate volume on the Big Board increased to $7,340,000 par value from $3,670,000 Monday.

Soviet Excuses Five Beria Conspirators

Georgia long has been a trouble spot for the Moscow regime. As the birthplace of Stalin and Beria, it had been coddled more than the other Soviet republics in the years after the end of the civil war which followed the Bolshevik revolution.

But many of Georgia's 3,600,000 people are descendants of mountain tribesmen who battled the Communists bitterly during the civil war. The republic since has been the scene of many political purges of persons suspected of being disloyal or dangerous to the central Communist regime.

No announcement of the executions was broadcast by Moscow radio itself, and the dispatches from correspondents in Moscow reporting on the Tiflis broadcast were long delayed by censorship.

Diplomatic sources in London suggested that disclosure of the executions at this time might prove embarrassing to Soviet Communist boss N. S. Khrushchev and Premier N. A. Bulganin, who are currently touring India.

The Soviet leadership had given the impression months ago that the whole Beria case was closed and all was harmonious within the Soviet regime. Both have attempted to give the impression of more leniency toward political opponents.

$32,400,000 Will Come From U.S.

Details of the entire program, including specific locations, type of work and costs, will be printed and distributed next month, Stratton said.

The governor said about 880 miles of various types of pavement surfacing have been built thus far this year. These include 111 miles of concrete pavement and 227 miles of bituminous concrete resurfacing. A total of 138 new bridges and grade separations were completed and 28 existing bridges were widened.

Stratton announced that the Congress street expressway between Laramie Ave. and Ashland Ave. in Chicago will be opened to traffic Dec. 15.

More than eight miles of new pavement on U. S. 66 from Mount Olive to Worden Wye will be opened Nov. 28. Construction on three other roads will be opened to traffic next month, he said. They are eight miles of pavement on U. S. 45 north of Champaign, 3 1/2 miles between Orchard Mines and Kingston Mines southwest of Peoria, and 11 miles from west of Casey to 2 1/2 miles east of Martinsville.

TIGER MAY BE IN DESERT

GALLUP, N.M. (AP)—A tiger may be roaming the Navajo reservation in western New Mexico and eastern Arizona.

Drivers for the General Services Administration and Navajo Indians say they have seen large cat tracks which a professional government hunter says are not those of a mountain lion.

The cause of the speculation goes back four years when a circus wagon was wrecked about 50 miles north of Gallup. A lion and a tiger escaped and were never recaptured. The tiger may have survived, Indians believe.

Arizona Halfback Sets Major College Record For Gains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arizona's Art Luppino, whose idea of playing football is just to grab the ball and run, already has set one major college ground gaining record this year. If he can stay in front of Navy's George Welsh and Jim Swink of Texas Christian for one more Saturday, he'll add this:

1. The first player to gain more ground by rushing than any other can gain by rushing and passing.

2. The first player to lead the nation's running backs for two consecutive seasons.

When Luppino galloped for 139 yards against New Mexico last Saturday, he brought his total yardage for nine games to 1,245—all gained on the ground. That not only gave him the total offense lead, but it made him the top all-time major college rusher for a two-season span.

As a sophomore in 1954 Luppino rushed 1,369 yards. His two-year total, with one game to go against Arizona State at Tempe, stands at 2,614, surpassing the service-interrupted two-season mark of 2,543 yards set by Rudy Mobley of Hard-Simmons in 1942 and 1946.

Challenging the Arizona antelope are Welsh, who has gained all but 20 of his 1,163 yards by throwing passes, and Swank, another runner, with 1,152 yards on the ground. Navy plays Army next Saturday and TCU goes against Southern Methodist. Most of the leaders in all individual offense departments already have ended their seasons.

Council Votes To Buy Property For $30,000 For New Parking Lot

The city council took steps to extend Jacksonville's off-street parking areas when it voted Monday night to exercise an option for the purchase of a large lot on North Mauvaisterre street, one-half block north of the public square, at a cost of $30,000.

The lot is owned by Edward Goldstein, who on Monday signed an option by which the city has the right to purchase by Feb. 1, 1956.

Eleven aldermen voted to exercise the option and buy the property, with Alderman McHatten voting "present."

The lot on the east side of Mauvaisterre street, north of the Illinois Theater, will provide metered space for 50 cars, according to the estimates by engineers. The proposed North Mauvaisterre municipal parking lot will be somewhat larger than the lot on South Mauvaisterre which accommodates 43 cars.

Reports Signing Of Option
Attorney W. L. Fay, special counsel for the new municipal parking area, reported the signing of the option with Mr. Goldstein, and presented a resolution for action by the council. He said the Goldstein property was the No. 1 location recommended by traffic engineers who made a survey for the Chamber of Commerce some months ago. The lot also bore the approval of the Jacksonville Plan Commission.

"The purchase and development of this area as a municipal parking lot will be another major step in relieving downtown traffic congestion," Mayor Hoagland told the council. "The proposed new lot is in a location where it will accommodate the public to best advantage, and will provide 50 more parking spaces easily accessible to the public square."

The mayor explained that the purchase and development of the municipal parking lot would be financed by issuance of revenue bonds to be paid from the parking meter fund. He said the trend in all modern planned cities is to provide several smaller parking areas, rather than one large area.

Includes Buildings
Several buildings on the property including an old residence will be included in the sale. The resolution for acquiring the lot was voted on motion of Alderman Rowe, seconded by Alderman Fitzsimmons.

Alderman Rowe of the water committee brought word which gratified members of the council when he reported on the present state of finances in construction of the pipe line to the Illinois river.

Rowe said that the big line will cost approximately $220,000 less than the amount authorized for the job.

Money available from bond issues was $2,508,746.97, and the sum of $2,257,772.40 has been spent, leaving $250,974.57 available. There are yet to be some expenditures, including final adjustments for right-of-way, but the surplus is expected to remain considerably above the $200,000 mark.

Alderman Rowe said the funds remaining from the pipe line construction will be placed in a fund for retirement of the pipe line bonds.

The council heard the reading of letters concerning several officials who are candidates for executive trustee of the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund. The council

Mrs. Kesterson, Pittsfield, Dies; Services Friday
PITTSFIELD—Mrs. Patricia Kesterson, 74, died at 12:35 Tuesday morning at the Illinois hospital which she had entered the preceding Monday afternoon. Mrs. Kesterson was the wife of the late Delbert Kesterson, for many years a Pittsfield business man.

She was born at Hannibal, Mo., May 24, 1881, the daughter of the late Joe and Mary Griffin. Her marriage to Mr. Kesterson occurred Jan. 10, 1900 and he preceded her in death two years ago.

She is survived by one son, Clarence of Pittsfield and two granddaughters, Carlene and Phyllis Kesterson. Also a brother, Dan Griggin, of Pittsfield.

The deceased was a member of the St. Mary's Catholic church at Pittsfield. Arrangements are incomplete at this time.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Friday in St. Mary's Catholic church here, with the Rev. Michael Crowley officiating. Burial will be made in Calvary cemetery.

Memorial Gift Of $1,000 Honors Edgar Martin

At the regular meeting of the Board of Trustees, Nov. 21, acknowledgement was made of a gift of $1,000 to Passavant Memorial Hospital in memory of Edgar Martin, its architect; these funds to apply to the purchase of laboratory equipment as determined by the Board of Trustees.

The hospital has recently been recognized by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of hospital which is composed of the following: American Hospital Association, American Medical Association, Canadian Medical Association, American College of Surgeons and American College of Physicians.

This recognition confirmed the attainment of the goal so intensely desired by Edgar Martin who wished to create the masterpiece of his career: a thoroughly modern hospital based upon his expert knowledge of national and international magnitude in the construction of hospitals, his specific field in the realm of architecture.

Edgar Martin, member of the American Institute of Architects (A.I.A.), of the Illinois Society of Architects (I.S.A.) and a member of other distinguished organizations has been honored by "Who's Who in America." His name appears in the issue of 1952-1953 and in previous editions.

The board expressed confidence that his achievement in the designing of Passavant Memorial Area Hospital reflects the highest degree of future service, and that it shall increasingly serve as a source of inspiration.

$700 Damage To Roof Of Barn On Caldwell Street
The roof of a barn in the rear of William Jarrett's residence, 425 Caldwell street, was badly damaged by fire at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Firemen saved the barn by using two lines of water from a large hose.

Fire damage was restricted to the south half of the roof. An insurance adjuster said the damage would amount to about $700.

While the ladder truck was backing after laying hose, it collided with a police car which was considerably damaged. The ladder smashed the police car windshield, also damaging a fender.

Before the Caldwell street alarm the department was called to the home of Andra Sullivan, 830 West Morton avenue, where the roof was considerably damaged by fire. Sparks from the chimney are believed to have caused the blaze. The property is owned by Ralph Cruzan.

At 9:24 o'clock Tuesday morning the department responded to an alarm from the new Howard Johnson restaurant on West Morton avenue. A grass fire burned in the rear of the restaurant without causing any damage.

Two Men Fined $150 And Costs
John Divers was fined $150 and costs in Morgan county court Tuesday on a charge of unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor, after he entered a plea of guilty. The costs amounted to $37.40.

Levi Gray entered a plea of guilty to gambling and was also fined $150 and costs amounting to $37.40.

Both men were arrested by police at their homes several weeks ago. Judge Fenstermaker ordered the execution of the fines and costs stayed until Nov. 29.

A charge against Virginia Cowpers, who was arrested at Gray's home, was dismissed on motion of State's Attorney Hall for lack of evidence.

Benjamin Ferguson Services Tuesday
Funeral services for Benjamin H. Ferguson were conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Gillham Funeral Home in Jacksonville. The Rev. Gerald Miller officiated.

Mrs. Lucille Chandler sang two solos, "Rock of Ages" and "Golden Bells," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. R. W. Hutchison.

Mrs. Florence Scott, Mrs. Ruth Todd, Mrs. Maize Todd, Mrs. Bertha Headon and Mrs. Lena Todd were flower ladies.

Pallbearers were Clarence R. Scott, Francis Todd, Loren Mueller, Herbert Todd, Vernon Todd, Maurice Johnson and Addie Todd.

Burial was made in Memorial Lawn cemetery.

Thanksgiving Service In Winchester Today

WINCHESTER—A union Thanksgiving service for all the churches of this community will be held at the Winchester Christian Church, this evening at 7:30.

The Rev. William Sealock will be the speaker, and has chosen as his subject "Think and Thank." There will also be a vocal solo by Ronald Gilman.

Research Forum Meets
Members of Research Forum No. 24 were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Dudley, Monday evening. Following a 6:30 dinner, vice president Harvey Vortman conducted the business session in the absence of president Kimmel.

The Rev. Roy Goodell was selected as president for the coming year. James Dudley was chosen as vice president and Otto Henry secretary, following the report of the nominating committee consisting of W. E. Harper, Judge Byron E. Koch and Robert Reid.

Dr. W. E. Harper reviewed a book on Hypnotism as the program for the meeting, and told of the effect of suggestion upon the business, social and economic habits of people.

A discussion followed the review of the book.

The invitation of Paul Vannier of Bluffs as host to the group for the December meeting was accepted.

Presents Essay Awards
The pupils of grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 of the Winchester elementary school have recently completed participation in an essay contest sponsored by the Neat, Condit & Grout Banvin connection with the school savings program endorsed by the American Bankers Association.

The following pupils were presented with awards by the bank for their essays on the subject of "Why Save?" Joan Albers, 5Y; Georgiann Lashmet, 6Y; Theo Mann and Jeanne Coultas, 6X; Donna Akers, 7X; Stephanie Pennell and James Greese, 7Y; Karen Wilson and Sandra Cowhick, 8Y; and Les Watt and Peggy Coughlin, 8X.

Assembly Views Play
A one-act play, "For the Love of Pete," given by members of the music and drama department of the Winchester Woman's Club was presented at the general assembly meeting of the club Monday afternoon at the First Baptist Church. The play was under the direction of Mrs. J. Ralph Peak, program chairman of the department, and the cast of characters included Mrs. Paul Lehman, Mrs. W. E. Harper, Mrs. R. F. Funk, Mrs. Paul Garrison, Mrs. Edward Closs and Mrs. Mark Peak.

A chorus, composed of members of the department, sang several songs. Mrs. A. E. McFarland was director. Mrs. William Cunningham pianist, and the chorus included Mrs. Horace Walsmley, Mrs. Earle Black, Mrs. H. C. Montgomery, Mrs. Herman Flynn, Mrs. Clifford Allan and Mrs. Allen McCullough.

For the event of the day Mrs. William Sealock spoke on "Broadway on Main Street," how the average person even in a small town can have the advantages of the city by seeing famous plays, operas, and musicals which are being made into movies.

Mrs. Clyde North, vice president of the Woman's Club, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Roy Coon. Members voted to adopt a resolution sponsored by the general federation for daily prayer on personal problems of the individual, help for U. S. leaders, and for the peace of the world. Members voted to send $5 for the Christmas fund of Park Ridge School for Girls.

Several new members of the club were welcomed into departments, among them Mrs. Opal Waggener, Mrs. Floyd Blackburn, Mrs. Albert Lehr, Mrs. Robert Arbuckle, Mrs. Harry Lair, Mrs. Russell Meyer, Mrs. Carl Gasaway and Mrs. Clifford Allen.

Relatives Attend Wedding
Mrs. Elsie Thomas and Mrs. Ann Coultas left Tuesday for Dayton, Ohio, where they will attend the wedding Thursday morning of Mrs. Coultas' grandson, Lt. Pat Doyle, and Miss Marianne Mowen of Dayton. Lt. Doyle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Doyle, will leave Wednesday.

Six Airmen Die In Jet Accident In Mediterranean
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy reported Tuesday the death of six men and serious injury to another in an aircraft accident aboard the carrier Ticonderoga in the Mediterranean Monday night.

The accident occurred when a jet fighter piloted by Ens. Otis C. Lightner of Alton, Ill., attempted a landing during night exercises. The tail hook of his plane failed to catch the arresting wire, jumped over the barricade and skidded down the deck, striking eight people.

Lightner was picked out of the water 20 minutes later. He was not injured seriously.

The Navy identified those killed in the accident as: Airman Charles E. Allen, Dorton, Ill.; Airman Gary M. Cobb, South Wardsboro, Vt.; Airman Apprentice Paul G. Collins, Houston, Tex.; Warrant Officer Herschel B. Daniels, Dickson, Tenn.; Airman Pierce E. Kidd, Wytheville, Va.; and Airman Paul G. Leathurby, East Gary, Ind.

Lt. Comdr. Curtis A. Weaver of Manila, Ark., was listed as critically injured.

Holdup Queen Stages Command Performance
CHICAGO (AP)—Maggie O'Connor, a comely, self-confident woman who is known as Chicago's holdup queen, made a personal appearance Tuesday at a police showup.

She was identified by victims as a participant in three stickups.

Maggie, in return, snarled that they are going to be "sorry."

Scene of the command performance was the detective bureau.

Robbery victims in the audience identified her with three Chicago robberies in July and August in which a total of $1,161 was stolen.

The 30-year-old Maggie wore black hair in a poodle cut.

After the identifications were made, Lt. Frank Pape asked if she was sorry. She shot back:

"I think they're the ones who will be sorry."

Mrs. O'Connor, who was arrested Monday night on a North Side street, was escorted to the Cook County Jail.

She was booked to appear next on three charges of robbery Dec. 12 in the Criminal Court.

Proposals For Subway, Relocation Of Wabash Tracks Are Presented

Two proposals for the safety of the public in relation to the Wabash railroad—which bisects the city east and west—were taken before the council Monday night by a public official and a citizen.

Coroner William L. Hawks took with him a petition signed by 465 citizens, all of whom urged construction of a subway or overpass which would serve as a quick and certain means of transit to both north and south sections of the city. All of the signers reside north of the Wabash, the coroner said.

Charles DeSilva, Sr., a longtime resident of Jacksonville, proposed that the city urge and encourage the railroad to relocate its tracks by taking them around the city, thus eliminating a hazard in a heavy population center.

The feasibility of a subway at North Main street or some other location was discussed two weeks ago, when the project was revived after laying dormant several years.

465 Sign Petition
Hawks said he had obtained 465 signatures on a petition, and could get several thousand more if necessary to start definite plans for a subway or overpass. The majority of the persons with whom he has talked favor the North Main location, he said.

Mayor Hoagland recalled that in 1947 when a North Main subway was given consideration a number of negative major factors were encountered. The cost would be almost prohibitive, he recounted; there would be drainage problems because of the contour of the earth at the crossing, and the drainage area would have to be pumped. It was recognized then, the mayor said, that another location probably would be best.

Would Relocate Tracks
Mr. DeSilva had an entirely different technique in dealing with the Wabash hazard. He would move the tracks, freeing all city street crossings of danger from fast-moving trains, and doing away with blocked crossings.

"Fifty-three years ago the Wabash railroad made a survey and considered moving its tracks to curve around the city," Mr. DeSilva said. "At that time the city was opposed to such a move, because it was served by eight passenger trains. Now there are no passenger trains, and the tracks are no longer needed in the city."

"I believe the city and the Commerce Commission should get together with the Wabash and try to work out a relocation of right-of-way. It would be a movement for safety of thousands of people."

DeSilva said that if the city considers a subway, he believes North Fayette holds the best possibilities on account of the grade, being higher than the North Main crossing.

At the conclusion of the discussions by Coroner Hawks and Mr. DeSilva, the mayor asked Engineer Kenneth Shapiro to confer with officials of the Illinois Division of Highways, to outline procedure for obtaining a subway or overpass, with assistance by state and federal agencies.

Will Provides For Partnership To Continue
Provisions for continuing the Walker Hardware store as a partnership were contained in the will of the late James A. Walker, senior member of the firm. Beneficiaries of the estate are Minnie Walker, wife of the testator, and their sons Gordon and James Walker.

Mrs. Walker was named executor of the will which was made Sept. 17, 1953, witnessed by Patricia H. Becker, Leavitt C. Arnold and William L. Fay.

The will of the late Tessie Tribble of Franklin has been filed for probate, naming William Walton Ward Tribble, Ruth Tribble Calhoun, Charles Wallace Tribble and Mary Margaret Tribble as beneficiaries in equal shares. Burley Jones was named to serve as executor.

The document was dated Sept. 22, 1941, witnessed by Etta Tranbarger and Lou Duncan.

even before you switch the pitch!

(And think of the gas you save!)

Now they've done it—and it's terrific.

Now, to the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflo,* Buick engineers have added a new marvel that goes airplanes one better.

They call it "double regeneration"—and it means, simply, that they found a way to make whirling oil add to its own velocity to give you double-action take-off.

You feel the results right from the start when you're at the wheel of a 1956 Buick with this advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

You feel it in the first inch of pedal travel—where all your normal driving is handled.

With just a gentle nudge on that gas pedal, you feel a new and instant getaway response that's solid, sure and infinitely smooth—great new performance from only part-throttle operation that means far better gas mileage to boot.

But when you need an extra safety-surge of acceleration to get out of a tight spot, you merely floor the pedal and switch the pitch. Then, split-second quick, you get full-power go-ahead like a pilot does at take-off—and it's the most thrilling safety measure on America's highways today.

We cordially invite you to come in and try this sensational action—and the newly boosted horsepower that go with it—in what is literally the best Buick yet.

For the 1956 Buick is just that. And when you toe the treadle, when you trigger that power, when you sweep along in the freshest styling of the times and in the sweetest-riding Buick in history—then you'll know firsthand that this is the Buick we say it is.

Come in for a visit this week—today, if you can—and let the thrills start happening to you.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Asbury WSCS Plans Community Social On Nov. 25

The Asbury WSCS met recently at the church with Mrs. Dale White and Mrs. Harold Sooy. Miss Dorothy Taylor and Mrs. Lena Hembrough as hostesses.

The meeting opened with the song "The Old Rugged Cross." Mrs. Frank Hembrough gave the devotion. The roll call was answered by "Hosannas" of the early Thanksgivings.

During the business session it was decided to have a community social at the church at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 25, with a potluck supper to be served before the meeting. The committee in charge includes Miss Eva Mortimer, Mrs. Sam Henry and Mrs. Paul Barrows.

Mrs. Barrows, program chairman, read a Thanksgiving message and a Thanksgiving poem. Mrs. Ray Cunningham conducted several contests during the social hour.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be Dec. 15 with a potluck dinner at the home of Mrs. Gene Cully.

Says Benson Had Support From Ike's Brother

NEW YORK (P)—The New York Herald Tribune said today it was authoritatively reported that Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower personally blocked demands by Republicans that President Eisenhower dismiss Ezra Taft Benson as secretary of agriculture.

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper reported that an intimate of the President said Dr. Eisenhower, a long-time friend of Benson, was the most significant single factor in the President's decision last month to continue his strong support for Benson.

The story recalled that Dr. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State University and brother of the President, traveled with Benson in the President's plane "when the embattled secretary went to Fitzsimmons Army Hospital Oct. 29 to discuss the explosive issue of declining farm prices."

The story also recalled that Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerly said at the time of the conference that the President had not "even thought of" dismissing Benson.

Noting that Dr. Eisenhower is an expert agriculturist, the Herald Tribune story said in part: "The report that Dr. Eisenhower is fully committed at this time to Mr. Benson and his farm program is an entirely natural reason for the President to continue Mr. Benson in office despite the political fears of some other Republicans."

The story also said: "The issue was understood to have been on the verge of a decision to let Mr. Benson go when Dr. Eisenhower reportedly brought his great influence to bear directly on the President."

The Herald Tribune said the source of the report that Dr. Eisenhower is personally responsible for Benson's continued term in office "is every bit an Eisenhower Republican."

Group Objects To Idea Of U. S. Aid To Church School

WASHINGTON (P)—A largely Protestant organization takes exception to a Roman Catholic declaration that private and parochial schools should share in government benefits.

The organization, Protestants and other Americans United for Separation of Church and State (POAU), said the Nov. 19 Catholic pronouncement on the issue was, among other things, marked by "studied nonsense."

The statement was issued Tuesday night by Glenn L. Archer, executive director. The organization composed mainly of Protestants of various denominations and some Jewish groups, is opposed to use of public tax funds to aid students at religious schools.

The Catholic declaration, to which 208 members of the U. S. Roman Catholic hierarchy subscribed, said private and parochial schools "exist by right" in the United States. On that ground, the statement said, "discriminatory" treatment of them is unfair.

The counter statement said the Catholic bishops were trying to justify a "demand for government aid and legal recognition of parochial schools as an integral part of the American education system."

"The kind of 'recognition' which the Roman Catholic prelates today seek for their schools," the statement said, "is the same kind of 'recognition' which made for torture and oppression in the name of 'God' in the period before church and state were separated in America."

Marie Dionne Must Take Month's Rest From Convent Life

MONTREAL (P)—A spokesman member of the Dionne quintuplets' family confirmed today that Marie, frailest of the famed sisters since birth, is being treated for anemia in a suburban hospital.

He reported her condition is "not serious," but it was believed she would not return to the Quebec City convent she has left twice since she entered it two years ago to become a nun.

The spokesman said doctors at the Notre Dame de l'Esperance Hospital—where two other quintuplets are studying nursing—had told Marie her life in the cloistered convent "was too hard for her frail health." He said they had "ordered a month of complete rest" for the 21-year-old girl.

The spokesman declined to be quoted by name but made his statement after a telephone conference with other members of the family. He said the girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne, would come to Montreal over the weekend from their home in Callander, Ont.

"Marie has chosen to go where she can be near her sisters," the family representative said, adding, "We sincerely hope our wishes be let alone will be respected."

Marie first left the convent because of ill health eight months after entering it. She went back following the death of her quintuplet sister Emile in August 1954.

LADIES' NIGHT' HELD AT ARENZVILLE CLUB

ARENZVILLE — The Arenzville Community Club observed its annual fall "Ladies Night" Monday evening. A turkey dinner was served by the American Legion Auxiliary to 90 guests.

After the group had assembled, Willard Peck, president, welcomed the members and guests. Miss Eileen Brasell sang "Bless This House" accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Paul. The invocation was given by the Rev. Aubrey Dunning.

Following the dinner Mr. Peck introduced Robert Brasell as toastmaster. Group singing was presented by Mrs. M. G. West, with Miss Paul at the piano. A brass quartet composed of Robert Wessler, Neal Hart, Jerry Lowkamp and Dale Strubbe sang three numbers accompanied by Miss Paul. A brass ensemble which included Neal Hart

Margaret Hierman, Marilyn Clark, Gary Nelson and Ronnie Schmitzer played "Military Polonaise." John Hadden of Jacksonville was the speaker of the evening, his topic being "Human Curiosity." A girls' trio consisting of Eileen Brasell, Helen Kolberer and Kathleen Ruppel sang three numbers accompanied by Robert Wessler. The program closed with the group singing of "A Perfect Day."

ARTHUR GODFREY tells the secret of his success

What made Godfrey go from a small-time radio announcer in Washington to a top star in network radio and TV?

This week, in The Saturday Evening Post, Arthur tells in his own words how he discovered his big radio secret during those painful months he spent in the hospital.

You'll learn how he became the nation's first jockey and set the pattern that has been followed by many.

Again this week millions of Americans will be reading "This is My Story" told by Arthur Godfrey himself. It's the year's biggest story from the entertainment world.

GLASGOW

GLASGOW—The local sorghum-making season has come to a close this week in our village. Frank Barrow, who has been operating his sorghum mill in the south part of town for the past several years, reports that he has finished making up his four acres of cane, which he raised this year near the city. Several cane raisers from other communities also brought their cane to be converted into sorghum.

Charles McEvers was injured Tuesday when he fell from a ceiling joist in the barn on the farm of his grandfather, Curt Blackburn. With his father, Harold McEvers, he was in the loft preparatory to shifting the corn into a different bin, when the joist turned, throwing both father and son to the ground. They were treated in the office of Dr. R. R. Jones in Winchester. Charles had a cut ear with five stitches required and Harold escaped serious injury but has a sore back.

Cliff Lewis has been detained at his home since Tuesday with illness.

Mrs. Gladys Nix of Ottawa, who has been visiting Mrs. Lola McLaughlin in Winchester, came Wednesday for a visit with Mrs. Nova McEvers and daughter, Madelyn.

Miss Louella Smith, employed as a nurse aide at Passavant hospital in Jacksonville, was detained at home by illness Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Lillard of St. Louis was a Thursday afternoon and evening guest of her sister, Mrs. Estelle Cowper.

Mr. and Mrs. James McClure and family attended a birthday dinner Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Sherwin near Patterson in honor of their daughter, Betty. The Wayne Hammon family of Hillview and Gene and Jimmie Henson of Belltown were afternoon callers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Walls of Manchester spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. John P. Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Ward and Mrs. Charley Ward and son, Mike, of St. Louis spent Saturday and Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Anson. Mrs. Anson accompanied them home for a several days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. James McClure and family attended a birthday supper Sunday evening in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hammon of White Hall in honor of her mother's birthday. Others attending included Mr. and Mrs. James Hammon, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ratliff and Miss Jane Hammon of Springfield; Bill Hammon of Champaign; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Gregory and family and Mr. and Mrs. Art Sandman of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Estelle Cowper and family were Sunday supper guests of Mrs. Ona Pope in Jacksonville. Wednesday visitors of Miss Mollie Gauges were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Prindle and children of Roodhouse. Mrs. Ida James of White Hall and Gus Gauges of Abey Thursday callers were Albert Gauges and Mrs. William Drummond of this community.

Miss Mollie Gauges spent Friday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. John P. S. Lettze.

Mrs. Letha Blair of Jacksonville spent Thursday and Friday with Mrs. Anna Blair.

SMOKERS ON ICE

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Montana University inherited 300 iceboxes with a housing project and things got hot for several persons. The residents found it cheaper to use electric refrigeration and the boxes were junked. Montana law required junked iceboxes to be stripped of locks and catches.

Parents got so hot about the boxes on the junk heap that MU President Carl McFarland posted a 24-hour guard over them. The problem melted away after the iceboxes were offered free to all takers. Within a couple days they were carted away. Hunters and fishermen wanted them to convert into meat smokers. Do-it-yourself addicts liked them for tool boxes.

For '56 choose FORD... America's Favorite Station Wagon!

With Thunderbird Y-8 power... Thunderbird styling... and exclusive new Lifeguard Design

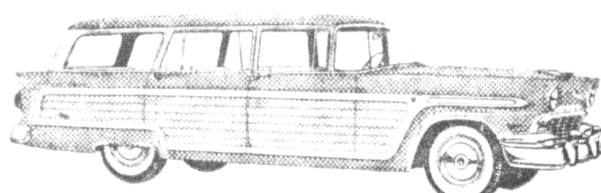

Eight-passenger Country Sedan

It's more stylish than ever this year, with exciting new colors... stunning interiors. Like the Country Squire, it has an easily removable 2-section rear seat. Four doors give easy access for all eight passengers.

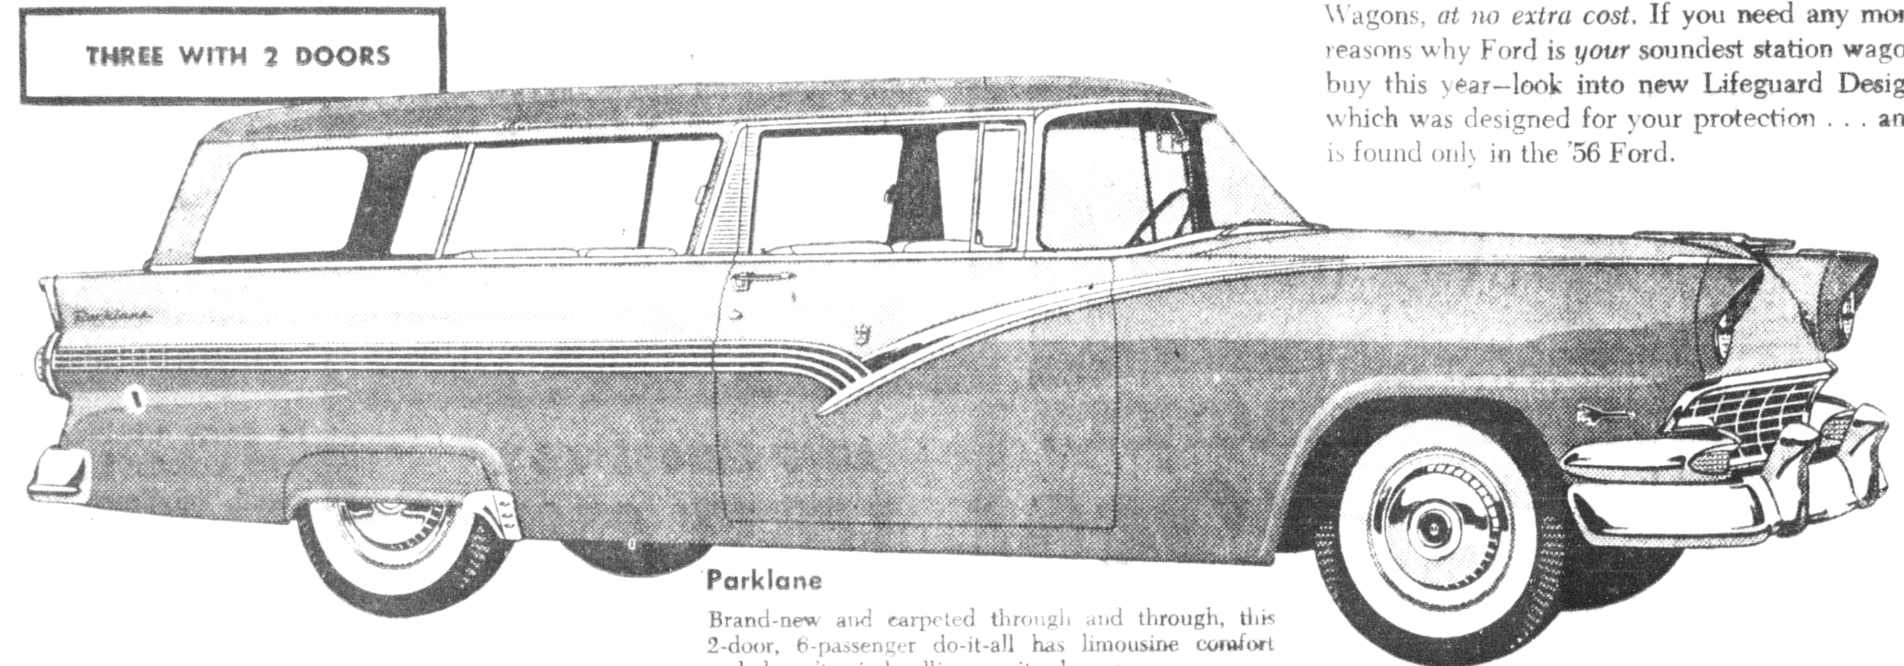

Six-Passenger Country Sedan

This model is designed for those who prefer 4-door convenience with seats for six. Like all Ford Station Wagons, it has fold-in-to-the-floor Stowaway seat.

Country Squire

A queen among all station wagons. Mahogany-finished steel panels with wood-grained, glass-fibre moldings give woodlike beauty to this 8-passenger dreamboat.

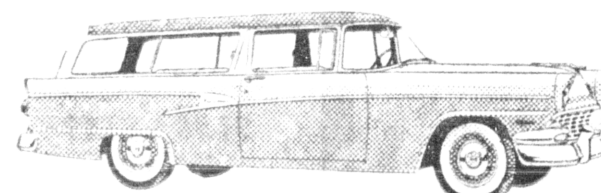

Parklane

Brand-new and carpeted through and through, this 2-door, 6-passenger do-it-all has limousine comfort and doesn't mind rolling up its sleeves.

Ranch Wagon

This all-around favorite has two wide doors, easily seats 6 people. As in all Ford Station Wagons, lift gate and tail gate can be operated easily with one hand.

Custom Ranch Wagon

A 6-passenger beauty that's at home on the range or in the city. Converts in a split jiffy from luxury liner to a super-spacious cargo carrier. Easy-to-clean interior.

There's more than meets the eye as to why Ford Station Wagons sell more than the two runners-up combined! Their Thunderbird beauty is apparent in all six models. But their beauty is more than skin-deep. Underneath that Thunderbird hide there's a heart of "GO"—for the Thunderbird Y-8 engine is the standard eight in all Ford Station Wagons, at no extra cost. If you need any more reasons why Ford is your soundest station wagon buy this year—look into new Lifeguard Design which was designed for your protection... and is found only in the '56 Ford.

Arnold Unit Next Meeting Dec. 21

The Arnold unit of the Morgan Scott Home Bureau met Nov. 16 at the home of Mrs. Milton Birdsell with Mrs. Jess Bostick as the assistant hostess.

The new chairman, Mrs. John Clegg, called the meeting to order at 2:15 p.m. The major lesson, What We Should Know about Our School Laws, was given by Mrs. Roland Howe and Mrs. James Sargent. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the new secretary, Mrs. T. B. Ranson. The highlights were read by the chairman.

Members paid dues to the new vice chairman, Mrs. Milton Birdsell, who gave a report on the Oct. 30 meeting held at the Farm Bureau hall for the past and presiding vice chairman and for the membership committee. Mrs. Ruel Parlier, Mrs. James Heaton and Mrs. Theodore Birdsell.

Eleven members answered roll call with their shopping weakness. Mrs. Herbie Mattson and Mrs. Bernard Lahey were guests at the meeting.

The new program schedules were handed out and discussed, each member filling in her book. It was decided to have a gift exchange at the December meeting with the price not to exceed 35 cents. The next meeting will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 21, at the home of Mrs. John Clegg. The major lesson, Paints for Wood and Walls, will be given by Mrs. Hilding Mattson and Mrs. Elmer Roegge.

Mrs. Roegge was unable to be present as she was taking a candle-glow lesson. The meeting adjourned and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

ROODHOUSE

ROODHOUSE — Mrs. Charles Bates, lifelong resident of Roodhouse, quietly observed her 88th birthday anniversary at her home on East Palm street Friday, Nov. 18. Mrs. Bates, who suffered a back injury some time ago, is able to be up only a portion of each day at present. Staying with her is Miss Effie Edwards. Her birthday cake was baked and brought to her by her daughter, Mrs. Fred Strang of White Hall. She received a number of callers during the day as well as cards and telephone calls.

Mrs. Edgar Ford will celebrate her ninety-second birthday anniversary the 23rd of November.

Mrs. Henry Gallman has received word of the death of her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Sears, who died Saturday, Nov. 12, at Memorial hospital in Meadows. Funeral services were conducted at Tiskilwa. Mr. Gallman's brother, Joe Gallman, is critically ill at his home in Benton Harbor, Mich.

The Methodist Men's Club will hold its regular meeting Monday evening in the church recreation room. The speaker of the evening will be Dr. Raymond F. McCallister of Webster Groves, Mo. The dinner meeting is open to all men and begins at 6:30 p.m. The program will follow the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Arden Kimmel and daughter will spend the Thanksgiving vacation in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tiff Minton of Alto Pass and Mr. and Mrs. Logan Kimmel of Murphysboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Butcher and family of Bloomington were recent visitors in the home of her mother, Mrs. Ethel Rice, and sister, Mrs. G. L. Prather. During their stay a family dinner was served at the home of Mrs. Rice. Also attending was Mrs. Rice's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth McConnell.

Out of town guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweetin for Thanksgiving will be Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Blacketter of Bloomington and Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Maberry of Jacksonville.

Donise McConathy, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McConathy, underwent a tonsillectomy at Our Saviour's hospital in Jacksonville Tuesday.

Perfume That Clings

Q—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one. —Mrs. A. W.

A—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance and was originated by Houbigant. Try their Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.85 plus tax at Long & Pharmacy.

What's the difference between Common Stocks, Preferred Stocks and Bonds?

1. When you buy bonds, you lend a company money. You become its creditor. The company promises to pay you back on a certain date and to pay you interest (usually a fixed rate) during the term of the loan.

2. When you buy stock — either common or preferred — you buy an ownership interest in a company ... its plant, inventories and other assets. If a company prospers and grows, you can share in the increased earnings. If it doesn't, dividends may be cut or omitted.

3. The advantages of bonds. Bond prices tend to be more stable than stock prices, although they, too, fluctuate to some extent. The return paid, although usually smaller, tends to be more certain. A company must pay all bond interest before it can declare a dividend on its stock.

4. Preferred vs. common stock. The main advantage of preferred stock: a company must pay dividends to its preferred shareholders before it pays any to the owners of its common stock. The main advantage of common stock: when a company is prospering, it can declare increased dividends to common stockholders (preferred usually pays a fixed dividend).

QUESTION?
Will you accept $75 per week plus commission to start learning our business? Do you own a good car? Can you assume responsibility? Are you free to accept a career position immediately? And finally will your wife let you stay away but four nights per week?

ANSWER
If your answer to the above is
"Yes" then for a personal interview in the strictest confidence

DIVIDED STUDY
BOGOTA (P)—The University of the Andes arranges to have some of its 600 students divide their studies between the university here and the universities of Texas, Illinois and Pittsburgh in the United States.

It's part of a program to provide better technical training.

President of the University of the Andes is Alberto Lleras Camargo, who was president of Colombia from 1945 to 1946.

"It's almost impossible to study technical courses here," Lleras said, "particularly engineering. By sending our students to the United States we give them the advantage of advanced technical facilities and a splendid academic atmosphere."

MILITARY DIPLOMAT
RICHMOND, Va. (P)—Gen. Mark W. Clark made a perfect score in score in diplomacy on a visit here. The retired military hero, now president of The Citadel in South Carolina, was asked by a reporter which school really ranked as the West Point of the South—The Citadel or Virginia Military Institute.

"The Citadel is the West Point of the farther South," Clark replied. "I've served all over the world with VMI men and they are a fine group."

FUELING AROUND
ST. PETERSBURGH, Fla. (P)—Lt. Paul Smith as a Coast Guard helicopter pilot has lowered many a gallon of gasoline to careless fishermen whose boats ran out of fuel.

The other day Smith was fishing 15 miles offshore when his boat ran out of gasoline. His co-worker and friend, Lt. John Vukic, dropped the fuel for Smith's idle boat—in ill-concealed mirth.

NEW BERLIN

NEW BERLIN—The family night potluck supper of the Island Grove Methodist church will be Friday night, Nov. 25, at 7:00 in the Community Room of the high school. Dr. and Mrs. V. B. Beat and children left Sunday for Arizona where they plan to stay one month. It is hoped this month will help little Jeffrey to better health.

Dr. and Mrs. Foote are living in the Beat home while they are away, and Dr. Foote is taking Dr. Beat's veterinary calls in his absence.

Mrs. Robert Cody is recuperating from surgery at Passavant hospital. Miss Meta Darley is serving as substitute teacher for her at St. John's Lutheran school.

DAN L. BOONE IS WANTED
RADFORD, Va. (P)—There is a warrant out for Daniel Boone's arrest in Montgomery County, Virginia, dated August 4, 1975.

Boone and fellow named William Cowan, owed Alexander Baine, a Fincastle merchant, 45 pounds, 18 shillings and 10 pence plus 50 shillings damages. The legend is that this debt was for supplies used by Boone in his westward trek.

The warrant was never served and it explains why on the back "Gone to Kentucky," is says Judge C. W. has a photograph of the warrant.

MEDICAL RECKLESSNESS
OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—Not even his doctors orders could save a beer-tipping Oklahoma City man. Following his arrest, Hoover V. Hampton told Judge Mike Foster he'd drunk only two beers as prescribed by his physician. The judge was skeptical. He fined Hampton $20 for reckless driving by drinking.

KINNE'S KIN
SOUTH GLASTONBURY, Conn. (P)—James T. Kinne rang up his first sale as proprietor of a store with more than ordinary satisfaction.

During negotiations for its purchase, he had discovered that the store had been founded by his great-grandfather, grandfather Aaron Kinne in 1799.

For Thanksgiving—

be sure to have plenty of Light
refreshment

EVERY HOSTESS KNOWS the bigger the Thanksgiving dinner, the surer the demand for lighter, less filling dishes when it's time to eat again.

For that's the sensible modern taste that keeps this generation young in health, in looks, in figure.

And that's the taste for which today's Pepsi-Cola is made. Reduced in calories, never too sweet or heavy, Pepsi refreshes without filling.

Pepsi-Cola is the modern, the light refreshment to go with leftovers, with week-end meals and snacks. Buy it by the carton.
